

CRIMSON LIGHT POLISHED WOOD

MONICA RASZEWSKI

- A deeply affecting novel about inheritance and identity, about not being seen, and about remembrance
- Of strong appeal to female readers, the novel has parallels with the works of Joan London, Charlotte Wood and Evie Wyld
- Author's second novel, the first was shortlisted for the NSW Premier's Literary Awards 2022

Leonora has relocated to Melbourne from London and falls in love with Margaret, a fellow teacher who three years later dies of cancer. While still grieving for Margaret, Leonora meets and befriends Anna, the Polish woman who lives next door.

Crimson Light Polished Wood illuminates with subtle ease the influence Leonora has on Anna's daughter, Lydia, introducing her to the world of literature and art.

This is a novel about the ways we all long for acceptance and how those we might feel most in touch with – including parents, siblings and mentors – can often have different values and views about us. As such it is a beautiful work about art, gender, inheritance, understanding and celebration.

'There is jealousy and deception in this strangely tender book that spans continents, generations and cultures. Pulsing with secrets, it stages the legacy of silence.' – Dominique Hecq

'Through her protagonist, Lydia, Monica Raszewski delicately uncovers the layers of a family friend's hidden past. This is a compassionate novel about aloneness, disappointment and betrayal; and it's about a heartfelt desire for intimacy, connectedness and belonging.' – Antoni Jach

Her previous collections include Grit Salute (Papertiger, 2012).

51 ALTERITIES

KERI GLASTONBURY

- An incisive observer of Australian cultural life returns with a collection that satirically reimagines our era of chaos and chicanery

'the republic of letters / a veritable la la land' writes Keri Glastonbury in 51 Alterities, a collection in which cacophony rhymes with simplicity, and device notifications rebound across the desert horizon. In her poems 'nepo boys are punching above their weight', haunted by the 'spectres of unreal estate'; the senate estimate's axe 'falls in aggregates of joy', while budgies in their natural habitat have 'no idea they are suburban pretty boys'.

Keri Glastonbury's previous collection Newcastle Sonnets was written as a riposte to Ted Berrigan's New York-based The Sonnets, and 51 Alterities began too as a loose adaptation, of British poet Sam Riviere's influential 2012 debut 81 Austerities. Riviere's collection was written in response to the impact of conservative UK austerity measures on the arts, and as a reconsideration of the function of poetry in the internet age.

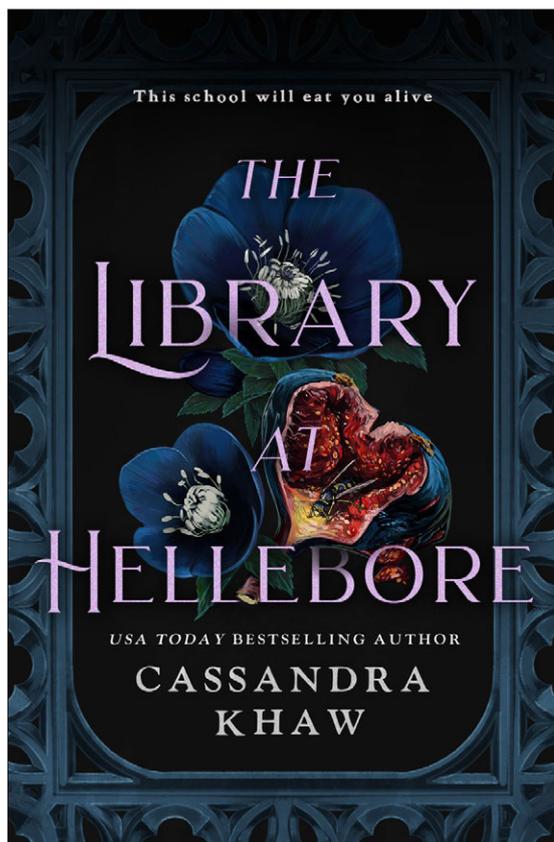

Wrestling with Antipodean 'alterity' more than ten years later, as a female queer poet a decade older than Riviere's millennial male, Glastonbury's 51 Alterities responds to the persistent threat of economic austerity, and to poetry's precarious place in a landscape dominated by billionaire tech bros and social media empires.

Praise for Newcastle Sonnets:

'A post-industrial love song... Glastonbury's sonnets, far from stultifying, are energetic and playful as they enact the associative freedoms of everyday speech.' – Judges' citation, Prime Minister's Literary Awards

'A shifting and dangerously mesmerising simulacrum of contemporary Australian urban life... Through whip-smart core samples of observation, Glastonbury becomes the qwerty keyboard medium for social media within Newcastle and beyond.' – Judges' citation, Judith Wright Calanthe Award

'Her poems are wonderful repositories of Aussie argot – maggoted, grouse, fugly, bush doof, wheelie bins, sadcore, cankles, choofing and a chicken that's been stuffed up the jacksie all get a run – but just as soon as you settle in, she changes gears.' – Sarah Holland-Batt, The Australian

- The privileged world of the elite boarding school feels richly realised and redolent with detail, the perfect setting for teen gods to duel to the death
- Khaw is emerging as one of the leading figures of the US horror scene, with a growing list of rave reviews and endorsements

Dark academia meets cosmic horror in this murderous tale of betrayal and broken hearts at an elite academy for the gods and monsters of the world, perfect for fans of The Atlas Six, If We Were Villains and Bury Our Bones in the Midnight Soil.

The Hellebore Technical Institute for the Gifted is the premier academy for the dangerously powerful: the Anti-Christ and Ragnaroks, the world-eaters and apocalypse-makers.

Hellebore promises redemption, acceptance, and a normal life after graduation. At least, that's what Alessa Li is told when she's kidnapped and forcibly enrolled.

But there's more to Hellebore than meets the eye. On graduation day, the faculty go on a ravenous rampage, feasting on Alessa's class. Only Alessa and a group of her classmates escape the carnage. Trapped in the school's library, they must offer a human sacrifice every night, or else the faculty will break down the door and kill everyone.

- Crisp lit-horror driven by a compelling neurodiverse and bisexual narrator

Vera, a bisexual statistics professor, is one of the survivors of a global disaster of a new kind – the Low Probability Event. What should have been a simple family lunch turns into an absurd catastrophe raining fish, parade balloons, exploding manholes and brutally violent animal attacks.

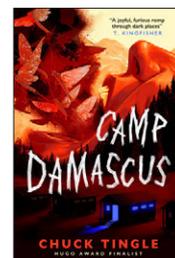

Washed up the aftermath, it's only when the handsome, but problematic, government agent Layne knocks on her door that she is offered a glimpse of meaning to life. Layne is investigating the Low Probability Event, and believes the deadly absurd events may be linked to an improbably lucky casino. As they hit the road to try and make sense of the meaningless chaos of life, only one thing is clear – what happens in Vegas isn't staying there...

‘A page-turning tale of adversity and adventure, laughter and love, death and defiance’ – The Scotsman

QUEEN MACBETH

Darkland Tales

VAL MCDERMID

- Now in paperback!
- Plunge into medieval Scotland, and discover the real Lady Macbeth
- Part of Polygon’s Darkland Tales series

Shakespeare fed us the myth of the Macbeths as murderous conspirators. But now Val McDermid drags the truth out of the shadows, exposing the patriarchal prejudices of history.

A thousand years ago in an ancient Scottish landscape, a woman is on the run with her three companions – a healer, a weaver and a seer. The men hunting her will kill her – because she is the only one who stands between them and their violent ambition. She is no lady: she is the first queen of Scotland, married to a king called Macbeth.

As the net closes in, we discover a tale of passion, forced marriage, bloody massacre and the harsh realities of medieval Scotland. At the heart of it is one strong, charismatic woman, who survived loss and jeopardy to outwit the endless plotting of a string of ruthless and power-hungry men. Her struggle won her a country. But now it could cost her life.

LAND OF HOPE

CATE BAUM

- Land of Hope* is a speculative novel about survival and obsession set in near-future Bronte-esque England
- Written in an inventive poetic vernacular, expect dark themes of abuse and terror of the unknown, for fans of Michel Faber, Rumaan Alam and Max Porter

Daughter. Mother. Glory. Wife of The Devil O’ Th’ Moor. Hope Gleason has many names. The child of a shepherd raised in the remote moors of Northern England, Hope has always understood the satanic brutality of the land.

But when an ear-splitting, unknowable sound destroys the nearby village, Hope must embark on a dangerous journey to survive through the ravaged land with a lad, newly orphaned and alone, under her wing.

As they trek the wilds together to find her husband, her violent past chases her at every turn and long-buried memories begin to resurface.

A pitch-black, magnetic, and unforgettable meditation on the nature of love, evil, and the power of redemption, Land of Hope mixes history and the myths of the English moors to tell a compelling modern English fable of serial killers at the end of the world.

‘Cate Baum’s writing takes you into a mysterious, murderous, sometimes frightening world and never lets go. A journey through many extraordinary emotions with one abiding feeling: hope. An extraordinary book.’ – Jonathan Myerson, Oscar-nominated writer of The Canterbury Tales and Nuremberg

JOE SIPLE

- The Five Wishes of Mr. Murray McBride is already a USA Today bestseller, proving that the audience for this book, and this series as a whole, is large and eager for more
- The prequel to the Murray McBride series – by the author of the beloved USA Today international bestselling novel The Five Wishes of Mr. Murray McBride

The day before Murray McBride moves Jenny, his beloved wife of eighty years, into a memory care centre, she convinces him to search for a case her grandfather buried long ago, said to contain ‘a treasure worth more than gold’. With the help of some new friends, Murray and Jenny retrace their steps from years before. Over the course of the day, Murray tenderly retells their love story – how they met, the challenges they faced and overcame, and their initial attempt at the quest.

But the closer they get to the treasure, the more clearly Murray remembers why they abandoned the search the first time. With the exhilarating discovery at hand, Murray must decide whether to unearth the treasure, even if it means bringing up painful events from the past.

This heartwarming novel is perfect for fans of Fredrik Backman’s A Man Called Ove and Lisa Wingate’s The Prayer Box.

- This is for readers who are looking for the darkest, spiciest romance on the shelf

The prequel to the NYT Bestselling Cat & Mouse Duet is here...

November 12, 1944. This house holds on to souls for a lifetime. I thought I had given it to my husband when I vowed to love him until the end of time. I lied. Nothing could have prepared me for the day my phantom appeared outside my window. He was terrifying, yet hypnotising, and I couldn’t deny my intrigue. I never intended to fall into a whirlwind romance with my stalker. Especially because he’s so much more than that. A criminal. A mobster. The man who offers me solace from the monster in Parsons Manor. There are many that haunt these halls, yet it’s only my husband I fear.

THE POETRY OF CHIYO-NI

The Life and Art of Japan's Most Celebrated Woman Haiku Master

PATRICIA DONEGAN, YOSHIE ISHIBASHI,
FOREWORD BY NATALIE GOLDBERG

- The first comprehensive book in English about the celebrated female haiku poet Chiyo-ni (1703-1775), an extraordinary woman who pursued her art with intense devotion despite the restrictions of her time
- Features over 100 of Chiyo-ni's poems in Japanese script with romanised text and English translations by Yoshie Ishibashi and renowned haiku poet Patricia Donegan

Chiyo-ni (1703-1775), also known as Kaga no Chiyo, is Japan's most celebrated female haiku poet. A student of Basho's disciples, she worked in an age when haiku was largely a male domain. As a poet, painter, and Buddhist nun, she lived a vibrant life while creating poems of crystalline clarity and delicate sensuality.

These luminous, lucidly translated 'haiku moments' give the reader an intimate experience of Chiyo-ni's remarkable vision – and bid us to stop and appreciate each moment of our lives.

'Patricia Donegan and Yoshie Ishibashi are to be deeply thanked for having given us with such articulate care a poetry major in any language and in any place or time.' – Robert Creeley, poet

ONE HUNDRED POEMS FROM OLD JAPAN

A New Translation of the Hyakunin Isshu
[With Free Online Audio Recordings]

TRANSLATED BY MICHAEL FREILING,
COMPILED BY FUJIWARA NO TEIKA

- A completely new translation of the Hyakunin Isshu ('100 poems by 100 poets')
- Contains poems written between the 10th and 13th centuries including works by emperors, warriors and priests and famous female writers

This completely new translation of the most famous collection of Japanese poetry ever produced, the Hyakunin Isshu ('A hundred poems by a hundred poets'), contains works written between the 7th and 8th centuries that were collected and published by the poet Fujiwara no Teika at the end of that era. The collection is still widely read in Japan today by school children and everyday people.

These poems provide insights on daily life in ancient Japan while addressing universal themes of love, loneliness, aging and the beauty of nature – all highly relevant today.

Each poem is presented in the Japanese script with a Romanised version and English translation. An introduction by translator Michael Freiling provides essential information about the collection, an overview of the poems and poets, and reflections on why the work remains so popular in Japan today.

A PALACE NEAR THE WIND

AI JIANG

- Perfect for fans of Nghi Vo's The Empress of Salt and Fortune and Neon Yang's The Black Tides of Heaven. Readers will love this richly inventive, brutal and beautiful novella
- Beautifully depicted, Chinese-inspired science-fantasy world: The Feng, a people with bark skin who weep tree sap, are being driven from their land by the new world

From a rising-star author, winner of the both the Bram Stoker and Nebula Awards, a richly inventive, brutal and beautiful science-fantasy novella. A story of family, loss, oppression and rebellion that will stay with you long after the final page.

Sometimes called Wind Walkers for their ability to command the wind, unlike their human rulers, the Feng people have bark faces, carved limbs, arms of braided branches, and hair of needle threads. Bound by duty and tradition, Liu Lufeng, the eldest princess of the Feng royalty, is the next bride to the human king. The negotiation of bridewealth is the only way to stop the expansion of the humans so that the Feng can keep their lands, people, and culture intact. As the eldest, Lufeng should be the next in line to lead the people of Feng, and in the past, that made her sisters disposable. Thankful that her youngest sister, Chuiliu, is too young for a sacrificial marriage, she steps in with plans to kill the king to finally stop the marriages.

- Packed with atmospheric gothic vibes, rich magic, flushes of corruption and racing hearts

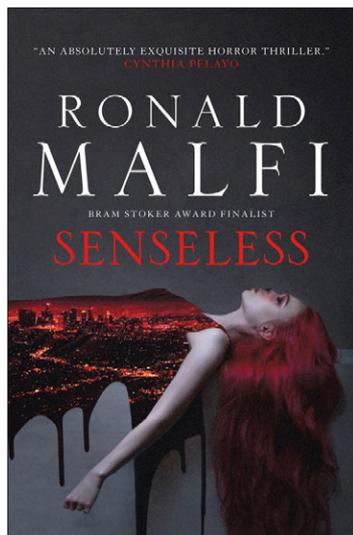

Edira Brillwyn has a secret. Edira Brillwyn is a threadmender. She holds a rare, lifesaving power that can cure disease and heal injuries in the blink of an eye. But magic always comes with a cost and saving anyone sacrifices a sliver of her own life. Edira's beloved aunt Rowena – a fellow threadmender – taught her to conceal this ability to protect herself from people who would take advantage, especially their powerful and wealthy neighbours. Withholding her magic will save her life. Orin Fernglove is immortal – an everliving – and head of the prominent Fernglove house.

The Ferngloves own the local mines, possess magic powerful enough to alter the stars, and don't take 'no' for an answer. When Edira's brothers unexpectedly contract blight, an incurable virus killing people throughout the town, Orin offers to help. If Edira returns to Fernglove Manor to assist in researching a cure to the blight, Orin can slow their sickness while she hones her magic. Using her magic could save the world.

- Bestselling author of Come with Me, published by Titan in July 2021

A page-turning, supernaturally-tinged LA puzzle-box thriller – Zodiac with teeth, from the Bram Stoker Award-nominated and bestselling author of Come with Me.

What do you see...?

When the mutilated body of a young woman is discovered in the desert on the outskirts of Los Angeles, the detective assigned to the case can't deny the similarities between this murder and one that occurred a year prior.

What do you hear...?

Maureen Park, newly engaged to Hollywood producer Greg Dawson, finds her engagement party crashed by the arrival of Landon, Greg's son.

What do you feel...?

Toby Kampen, the self-proclaimed Human Fly, begins an obsession over a woman who is unlike anyone he has ever met.

In Ronald Malfi's brand-new thriller, these three storylines converge to create a tapestry of deceit, distrust, and unapologetic horror.

- Halo recently celebrated its 20-year anniversary as the most recognised sci-fi videogame franchise of all time

2559. It has been a year since the rogue artificial intelligence Cortana seized control of the Domain, an otherworldly dimension housing a vast information network. With an array of Forerunner weapons at her disposal, Cortana set out to enforce an authoritarian peace on the civilisations of the galaxy. But as the United Nations Space Command flagship Infinity prepares to strike against Cortana at Zeta Halo, another plan has also been set in motion.

An ancient access point hidden on a seemingly insignificant human colony has become the focus of a parallel effort to claim the Domain and its immeasurable capabilities. The UNSC, however, needs a key: a living, forsaken product of an old war. As a new generation of heroes rise to meet this challenge, and Cortana's pursuit of control reaches a desperate and sudden crescendo, a cunning, ruthless warrior emerges from the shadows of the Banished, who has vowed to fill the new power vacuum by any means necessary...

INTO THE CTHULHU-UNIVERSE

Lovecraftian Horrors in Other Literary Realities

EDITED BY STEVEN PAULSEN,
CHRISTOPHER SEQUEIRA

- This anthology has a unique take on using Lovecraftian fiction – portraying it in other literary conventions
- Some of the best horror writers in the world have contributed to this anthology

With his Cthulhu Mythos, H. P. Lovecraft's original and brilliant fusions of science fiction, supernatural horror and surreal fantasy often purposely crossed genres to mind boggling effect. Since then, many of his contemporaries and modern writers alike have continued to grow the lore.

Now, we throw the doors wide open on that combinative approach to bring you truly amazing tales where strange Lovecraftian ideas have spilled into the worlds of characters you know and love, like Alice's Wonderland, Tom Sawyer, Dracula, John Carter of Mars and more. Not mash-ups, but original stories in other literary landscapes. It doesn't matter how unlikely a setting for the macabre or fantastic your favourite literary genre might seem in this dazzling collection, the realms between realities melt and coalesce, the familiar becomes the unthinkable, the predictable becomes the startling!

An astounding, horrific, thought provoking and entertaining buffet of modern fantasy, by some of the best writers in the field, from grandmasters to up-and-comers.

CARBON DATING

JEN SMITH

- Romance tropes: forced proximity, enemies to lovers, only one bed, workplace romance

The archaeological discovery of a lifetime...but her sworn enemy is digging it.

When Laurel Fletcher's meticulously ordered world is upended by the discovery of a possible Anglo-Saxon burial site on her beloved family farm, the last person she expects to see is Dr. Nate Daley – the man she hoped never to encounter again.

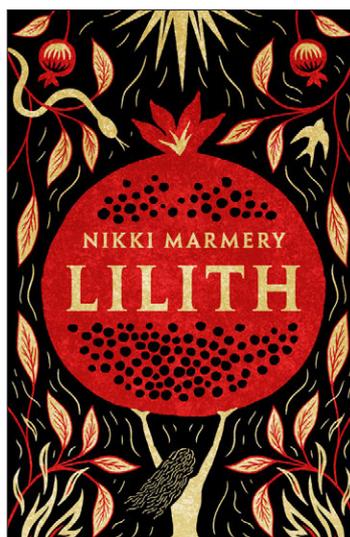

As old university resentments resurface, Nate is baffled by Laurel's hostility and strives to build a friendship with her. As they reconnect, Laurel and Nate realise their feelings run deeper than they initially thought. But just as they start to envision a future together, unexpected revelations threaten to tear them apart. Can they overcome their past to build a future together?

LILITH

NIKKI MARMERY

- Now in paperback!
- A feminist reimagining of Genesis, bringing to life Adam's first wife

*One of Stylist's Best New Feminist Retellings to Read in 2023*

In the Garden of Eden, at the beginning of time, an outrageous lie is born: that women are inferior...

Lilith and Adam are equal and happy in the Garden of Eden. But when Adam decides Lilith should submit to his will and lie beneath him, she refuses – and is banished forever from Paradise. Demonised and sidelined, Lilith watches in fury as God creates Eve, the woman who accepts her submission. But Lilith has a secret: she has already tasted the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge. Endowed with Wisdom, she knows why Asherah – God's wife and equal, the Queen of Heaven – is missing. Lilith has a plan: she will rescue Eve, find Asherah, restore balance to the world and regain her rightful place in Paradise.

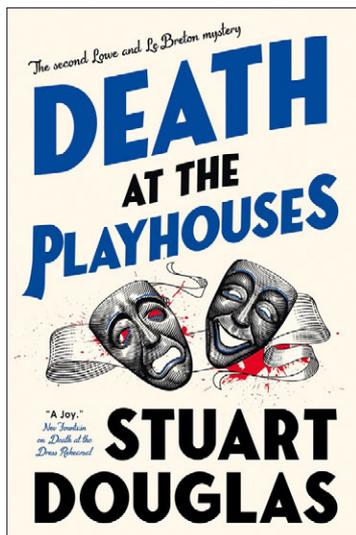

'Nikki Marmery's exquisite prose brings this compelling, highly relevant tale of Adam's first wife to life.' – Laura Shepperson, Sunday Times bestselling author of Phaedra

'Nikki Marmery takes you upriver to the wellspring of sexism, but sends you floating back down on a little tide of hope.' – Meg Clothier, author of The Book of Eve

DEATH AT THE PLAYHOUSES
STUART DOUGLAS

- This series will appeal to cosy crime mystery authors such as Richard Osman, Janice Hallett, Ian Moore, Tom Hindle and the Reverend Richard Coles

In between filming seasons of Floggitt and Leggit!, ageing actors Edward Lowe and John Le Breton sign up for short run at the Leeds Playhouse, lured by the promise that the play will transfer to the Stadsschouwburg – the Amsterdam Playhouse. Once in Leeds, they discover they have been invited to join for two reasons – because the company manager is keen to take advantage of the publicity surrounding Floggitt and Leggit! (now a massive hit) and because Sir Nathaniel Thompson, the much-lauded star of the show and knight of the realm, has been sacked for drunkenness and failing to turn up for work.

THE RAILWAY CONSPIRACY
JOHN SHEN YEN NEE, S. J. ROZAN

- For fans of fast-paced historical mysteries such as Akimitsu Takagi's The Tattoo Murder, Ambrose Parry's Voices of the Dead, and Amy Chua's The Golden Gate
- The world in which the story takes place (amid the Chinese community in the early 1900s) is one that's rarely touched upon in crime fiction

A lightning-paced, kung fu-filled historical mystery in which two amateur Chinese sleuths take down a sinister conspiracy between Imperial Russia, Japan, and China in 1920s London. Perfect for fans of Laura Shepherd-Robinson and Laurie R. King.

Judge Dee and Lao She must use all their powers of deduction – and kung fu skills – to take down a sinister conspiracy between Imperial Russia, Japan, and China in 1920s London.

THE DEAD OF SUMMER

Strange Tales of May Eve and Midsummer

EDITED BY JOHNNY MAINS

- A unique collection focusing on an important but overlooked stretch of the ritual year, and the surprising wealth of fiction devoted to the uncanny and liminal time of May Day Eve, Walpurgis Night and the Summer Solstice
- Featuring stories from classic authors such as E. F. Benson and Joan Aiken along with lost classics from obscure periodicals of Britain and America

May Day Eve, Walpurgis Night and Midsummer Eve – or the Summer Solstice. Tales of these fated days and nights, and their riotous rituals and feasts, have rung down the centuries, and yet in today’s world those that observe their ancient ways are few.

Setting out on a mission to re-weird this lost stretch of the ritual year, Johnny Mains returns with a collection of tales of the bizarre, the beastly and the brutal to welcome the summer and raise the cry: Wyrd is Icumen in!

YOU ARE HERE

Poetry in the Natural World

EDITED AND INTRODUCED BY ADA LIMÓN

- Now in paperback!
- A #1 bestseller with over 30,000 copies in print! Throughout 2024, You Are Here sat atop Bookscan’s poetry bestseller list
- Celebrates the diverse range of voices exploring nature, landscapes, place, science, climate, animals, flora and fauna
- Beautifully packaged with illustrations throughout and gift-book appeal: a work both for readers and nature lovers

For many years, ‘nature poetry’ has evoked images of Romantic poets standing on mountain tops. But our poetic landscape has changed dramatically, and so has our planet. Edited and introduced by the twenty-fourth Poet Laureate of the United States, Ada Limón, this book challenges what we think we know about ‘nature poetry’, illuminating the myriad ways our landscapes – both literal and literary – are changing.

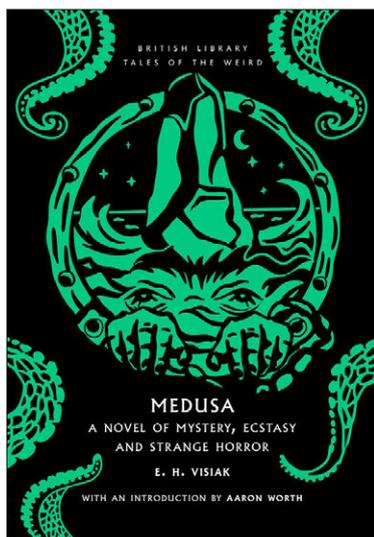

You Are Here Each poem engages with its author’s local landscape – be it the breathtaking variety of flora in a national park, or a lone tree flowering persistently by a bus stop – offering an intimate model of how we relate to the world around us and a beautifully diverse range of voices from across the United States.

SCANDALIZE MY NAME

MEDUSA

A Novel of Mystery, Ecstasy and Strange Horror

E. H. VISIAK, INTRODUCTION BY AARON WORTH

- A new edition of an important novel which is now extremely scarce, its only recent edition having been a short-run collector’s item
- This novel is regularly listed as one of the twentieth-century’s best horror novels in reviews throughout the 70s, 80s and 90s
- Featuring a new introduction exploring the novel’s resonance on the fiction of Visiak’s contemporaries and today’s weird writers who have championed it, such as China Miéville

‘Something moved along upon the verge with a sliding, writhing motion, seeming like the body of a huge serpent...Drawn by horror’s fearful traction, I moved to the verge of the parapet and looked down.’

Bristol, the early eighteenth century. On the run following a fatal accident at school, the orphan Will Harvell joins a voyage setting sail in search of a mariner’s missing son. But the mystery of his disappearance harbours a deeper secret; a dark current pulling the crew ever closer to an ancient Gorgonian terror of the ocean.

Combining elements of Conradian sea adventure, Atlantean mythology and sublime horror, Medusa was first published in 1929 and achieved cult classic status in the late twentieth century as a neglected masterpiece.

- A forgotten book revived for the Crime Classics series for a new readership to enjoy. Described by Martin Edwards as similar in tone and style to early P. D. James fiction
- A classic set up with a closed circle of suspects – the tenants and neighbours of a faded-glory historic building in North London – but with a grittiness befitting the 1960 publication date

‘Caroline, too, stared out at the restless traffic, her mind’s eye revolted by the memory of Ivan Sweet’s pale cold face and the explosive malice that had seethed behind his dead brown eyes...’

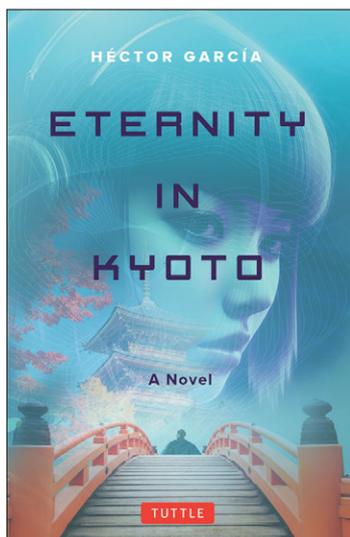

On the eve of Elaine Southey’s 21st birthday, Ivan Sweet has been found dead in his flat in the basement of the Southey’s historic north London home. A slick charmer to some of the tenants – and a loathsome young scoundrel to others – his death doesn’t draw out many tears among the house’s residents and neighbours. And yet the sordid truth starts to seep into the heart of their small community – a murder is living among them, and who’s to say when they might strike again? The shrewd Oxford man Superintendent Paul Grainger finds himself faced with a small circle of suspects whose connections and hidden motives heap complexity upon complexity in this tightly wrought mystery, shot through with a chilling touch of the macabre.

HECTOR GARCIA

- The debut novel by Hector Garcia, bestselling author of Ikigai and A Geek In Japan
- A poignant love story and techno-thriller set in ancient Japan that explores the essential core of our shared humanity
- Will appeal to fans of dystopian fantasy fiction and technological thrillers, as well as fans of Japan and Japanese culture

Would you risk everything and travel back in time to find the love you thought you’d lost forever?

Nathan leads a solitary life centring around his passion for antique watches. One day, he chances across an old photograph of Mia, his high school crush, who moved to Japan many years ago with her family, then died under suspicious circumstances. Or did she?

Not long after, Nathan receives text messages from someone named Mia. Are these a hoax or is she alive? He vows to find out, which leads him to Kyoto and a mysterious organisation called the Taira Corporation who seem to know everything about him, and offer to transport Nathan into the past in search of Mia. But along the way he must fight off the rival Genji Corporation – who will stop at nothing to destroy Nathan and his friends.

Eternity in Kyoto is a fast-paced techno thriller set against the backdrop of ancient Japan that takes the reader on an exciting journey to 12th-century Kyoto.

ORIANA

A Novel of Oriana Fallaci

ANASTASIA RUBIS

- Miss Fallaci is now streaming on SBS On Demand
- Experts place Oriana in the same category as Mike Wallace and Barbara Walters when naming the best interviewers in history
- The novel tells the story of one of the first women who broke through the glass ceiling of male-dominated journalism

When a Hollywood producer visits Oriana Fallaci at the end of her life to propose a movie, the story unfolds of her trailblazing career as a journalist, her tragic love, and her greatest regret.

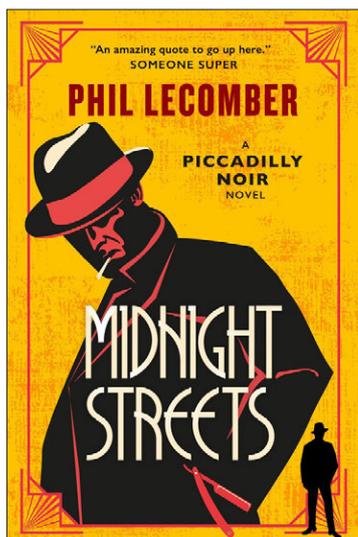

Oriana was born in Italy, moved to Manhattan, and shot to international fame for her provocative interviews of world leaders and celebrities. At her peak in 1973, Oriana was called ‘the best reporter in the world’. That’s when she fell in love with Alexander Panagoulis, Greek hero and poet. He was ten years younger and lived in a different country, but Oriana didn’t care. She had finally found what she longed for: a full life. Can a woman ever have it all, or does life always exact a price?

Christiane Amanpour calls Oriana her role model, saying, ‘I wanted to be her!’

Oriana holds a place alongside Mike Wallace and Barbara Walters as a legendary interviewer. But her story is little-known in America, until now.

MIDNIGHT STREETS

PHIL LECOMBER

- For fans of Dominic Nolan's Vine Street and White City, and Laura Shepherd-Robinson's novels set in London's demimonde of criminals and prostitutes
- Stylish historical noir filled with unforgettable characters from London's underbelly, the novel is engaging, pacy and rich in gritty period detail

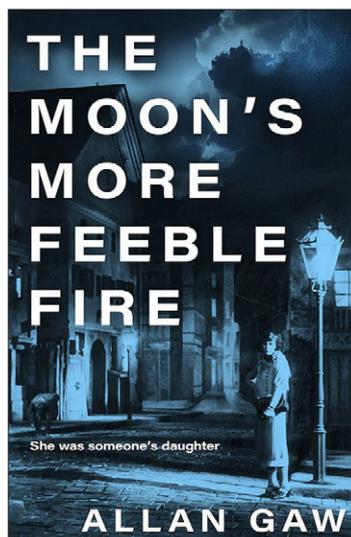

A pacy, evocative dark historical thriller about a working-class private detective in 1920s London's Soho, who has grown up alongside the morally dubious characters who are key to cracking the cases he investigates, for fans of Laura Shepherd Robinson and the TV series Peaky Blinders.

When Cockney private detective George Harley saves a young girl's life on a dark London night in 1929, he doesn't realise it marks the beginning of an investigation which will change his life forever. The incendiary book which inspired the girl's abduction also seems to be linked to a series of grisly murders that are taking place on Harley's patch, and though he's delighted to be asked by Scotland Yard to help find the killer before they strike again, he could do without the local razor- and cosh-wielding mobsters thinking he's in the police's pocket.

Set during the Golden Age of Crime Fiction, Harley's world is a far cry from the country house of an Agatha Christie whodunnit.

THE MOON'S MORE FEEBLE FIRE

A Dr Jack Cuthbert Mystery

ALLAN GAW

- The first Dr Jack Cuthbert Mystery, The Silent House of Sleep, won the Bloody Scotland Crime Debut award in 2024 Charismatic protagonist Dr Jack Cuthbert is a queer, war-damaged Scottish pathologist investigating a string of murders in 1930s London

In 1930, the killing of a Soho prostitute is hardly a priority for Scotland Yard. But when a second, similar murder comes to light, and then a third, everything changes. Cuthbert and his team find themselves in a nightmarish world of people-trafficking, prostitution and drug use amongst the upper classes. Using all his forensic skills, Cuthbert sets out to solve one of the most baffling cases of his career.

UNSEX ME HERE
AURORA MATTIA

- Signature themes of trans womanhood and myth-making
- For fans of Jackie Ess, Imogen Binnie, Julia Schaland and Clarice Lispector
- Her debut collection, The Fifth Wound was received with much acclaim, with reviews in The New York Times, Vogue, and Nylon. She was interviewed in BOMB, Poets and Writers, and Electric Literature

If Aurora Mattia is a switchboard operator, then Unsex Me Here is her call log. Please hold. There’s someone on the other line. A spider, a sibyl, an angel, a mermaid, a goddess, or an ex-girlfriend.

Unsex Me Here is a prayer book tied together by the strings of a corset. Glamorous rambles, haunted by the sense of another world drawing near, wander in and out of its inexplicable twilight. From a West Texas town with a supernatural past to a stalactite cavern in the birthplace of Aphrodite, from hotel rooms to gardens to the far horizon of a thought, they seek the source of the disturbance in their minds. Heartbreak is not so far from rapture; holy babble is another kind of gossip. Every pilgrimage is as dense with symbolism as it is refined by desire.

THE LAST MAN IN PARADISE

SYED M. MASOOD

- Syed's debut YA novel Bad Muslim Discount published to incredible reviews. It was lauded for its 'sharp observations on religion, violence, and politics' (The New Yorker), balance of 'humour with pathos' (Booklist, starred review)
- With its blend of wry, dark humour and intelligent exploration of identity and religion, Last Man in Paradise will appeal to readers eager for clever reads that spark conversation and fans of the dark humour/satire of Yellowface and Black Buck

A decade ago, Azaan, a rebellious teenager with dreams of becoming an actor, was exiled from Redding, California to a religious academy in Egypt by his imam father. His crime? Getting caught kissing Madison, the girlfriend he wasn't supposed to have.

But while letting his family believe he is studying to become a preacher, Azaan ditched school and embarked on an acting career. Given that he has minimal contact and nonexistent plans to return home, he figured no one would ever know.

Now, however, Azaan's grandfather has a dying wish: he wants to see his grandson one last time. In order to maintain the story he's told his family for years, Azaan decides to become a fake imam. Playing at being a religious leader, he finds a community in Redding on the brink of a scandal involving his family.

REALISTIC FICTION

ANTON SOLOMONIK, EDITED BY CAT FITZPATRICK

- A jousting contemporary of the alt-lit wave, Solomonik too grapples with toxic legacies of Millennial online masculinity
- An underground celebrity in transgender literature for years, Solomonik currently hosts the World Trans Forum open mic series and was founder and host of the legendary Genre Reassignment trans performance night

Finally, a book for men!

Have you ever engaged in totally normal male behaviour like:

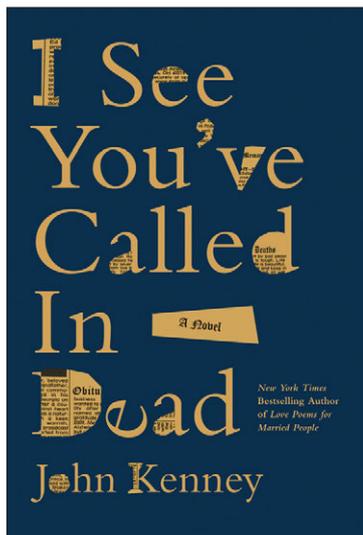

- Stealing porn magazines?
- Hooking up with guys on Grindr?
- Attempting to work in an open-pit mine despite having no relevant job experience?
- Crossdressing as a woman?
- Attending Gnostic Mass?
- Running for government office?

Then this is a book for you!

It is definitely not a deeply felt collection of transsexual short stories, engaged in dissident metaphysical investigation of the normative tenets of gender in our society! Bro, how could you say that? It is very dramatic and exciting, yes, but it is not metaphysical at all. In fact, it is Realistic Fiction.

I SEE YOU'VE CALLED IN DEAD

A Novel

JOHN KENNEY

- A much-needed male friendship story: Readers want to laugh. And smile. And feel something deep. Written with sincere and biting humour, this is a coming-of-middle age tale from a male's perspective
- This quirky cast of characters are all trying to find the meaning of life
- Beautiful depiction of neurodivergent characters and those with disabilities

The Office* meets Six Feet Under meets About a Boy in this coming-of-middle-age tale about having a second chance to write your life's story.

Bud Stanley is an obituary writer who is afraid to live. Yes, his wife recently left him for a 'far more interesting' man. Yes, he goes on a particularly awful blind date with a woman who brings her ex. And yes, he has too many glasses of Scotch one night and proceeds to pen and publish his own obituary. The newspaper wants to fire him. But now the company's system has him listed as dead. And the company can't fire a dead person. The ensuing fallout forces him to realise that life may be actually worth living.

As Bud awaits his fate at work, his life hangs in the balance. Given another shot by his boss and encouraged by his best friend, Tim, a worldly and wise former art dealer, Bud starts to attend the wakes and funerals of strangers to learn how to live.

THE VINYL DETECTIVE

Underscore

ANDREW CARTMEL

- The eighth volume in the highly successful Vinyl Detective series, combining wit, crime and appreciation for classic LPs and music
- Perfect for new readers as well as series fans, crammed full of Cartmel's trademark wit and deep research on musical genres

Some of the greatest music to come out of Italy is the rich diversity of soundtracks composed for the indigenous film industry – particularly for gruesome thrillers known as 'gialli'. The maestros who composed for these include Ennio Morricone, Piero Piccioni, Armand Trovajoli...

And Valerius Passeri.

He was one of the finest composers of this genre and his original LPs from his 1960s heyday fetch a fortune from collectors. No one disputes that Passeri was a genius... The argument is whether or not he was a murderer.

Passeri's granddaughter Chloe has come to England to hire the Vinyl Detective. She wants him to negotiate for a collection of her father's LPs. The mastertapes of the albums have been destroyed and she needs immaculate vinyl copies to provide the source for a series of reissues – Chloe's mission is to preserve her grandfather's heritage. And also, it transpires, to clear his name.

So it turns out that the Vinyl Detective's real job will be to find out who actually committed a murder.

KING ARTHUR'S DEATH

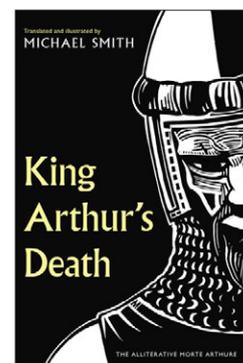

The Alliterative Morte Arthure

MICHAEL SMITH

- Michael Smith's new translation brings the poem alive for a modern audience, while his comprehensive introduction situates the work in its historic and literary context

A new translation of the classic English poem that inspired Malory, stunningly illustrated with linocuts by the author.

King Arthur's Death (commonly referred to as the Alliterative Morte Arthure) is a Middle English poem that was written in Lincolnshire at the end of the fourteenth century. A source work for Malory's later Morte d'Arthur, it is an epic tale which documents the horrors of war, the loneliness of kingship and the terrible price paid for arrogance.

SIR GAWAIN AND THE GREEN KNIGHT

MICHAEL SMITH

- Beautifully illustrated throughout with the author's own intricate linocuts and dotted with specially designed lettering

It is New Year at Camelot and a mysterious green knight appears at King Arthur's court. Challenging the knights of the Round Table to a Christmas game, he offers his splendid axe as a prize to whoever is brave enough to behead him with just one strike. The condition is that his challenger must seek him out in a year and a day to have the deed returned. Sir Gawain accepts and decapitates the stranger, only to see him pick up his head, walk out of the hall and ride away on his horse. Now Gawain must complete his part of the bargain, search for his foe and confront what seems his doom...

Michael Smith's translation of this classic Arthurian romance draws on his intimate knowledge of the North West of England and mediaeval history, culture, and architecture.

TALES ACCURSED

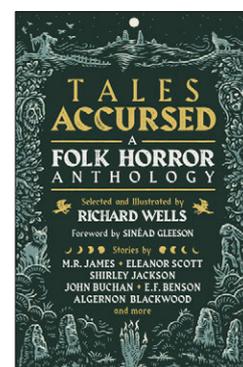

A Folk Horror Anthology

EDITED BY RICHARD WELLS

- Sixteen folk-horror stories featuring beautiful lino-cut illustrations throughout

A bold follow-up to the very popular Damnable Tales. Full of thrillingly chilling tales from Shirley Jackson, M. R. James, William Croft Dickinson and many more.

This anthology contains work from both the established masters of Folk Horror, and some more surprising contributors: from Shirley Jackson and M. R. James to E. F. Benson and William Croft Dickinson. Tales Accursed will raise the hairs on your neck and keep you alert to the slightest rustle in the trees: through the chill splendour of moonlit nights come apparitions through the orchard; sea-witches perch on the sharp fangs of rocks as they weave their spells; fir-woods lie unnaturally still with no birdsong, no breeze, nor any undergrowth; and hooded creatures crouch on grey secluded beaches.

When forger Slate is convicted of treason, she faces a death sentence. But her unique gift for sniffing out magic (literally) earns her a reprieve – of sorts.

Along with a paladin, Caliban, possessed by a demon, her murderous ex-lover, and an irritating misogynist scholar, Slate sets off on a mission to learn about the Clockwork Boys, deadly mechanical soldiers from a neighbouring kingdom who have been terrorising their lands. If they succeed, rewards and pardons await, but they must survive a long journey through enemy territory to reach Anuket City.

A CARNIVAL OF ATROCITIES

NATALIA GARCÍA FREIRE, TRANSLATED BY VICTOR MEADOWCROFT

- The residents of a desolate town nestled in the Ecuadorian Andes are forced to reckon with the legend of Mildred, a girl wronged by the town years ago
- By the author of This World Does Not Belong to Us, Tigre Juan Award nominee and winner of the English PEN Translation Award

Cocuán, a desolate town nestled between the hot jungle and the frigid Andes, is about to slip away from memory. This is where Mildred was born, and where everything she had – her animals, her home, her lands – was taken from her after her mother's death. Years later, a series of strange events, disappearances, and outbursts of collective delirium will force its residents to reckon with the legend of old Mildred. Once again, they will feel the shadow of death that has hung over the town ever since she was wronged. The voices of nine characters – Mildred, Ezequiel, Agustina, Manzi, Carmen, Victor, Baltasar, Hermosina, and Filatelio – tell us of the past and present of that doomed place and Mildred's fate.

ATTILA

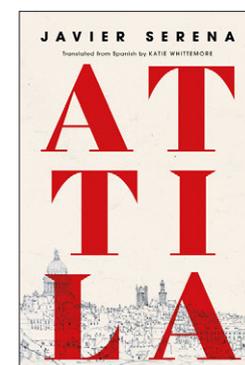

JAVIER SERENA, TRANSLATED BY KATIE WHITEMORE

- This novel is about the end of Aliocha Coll's life and his writing of Attila, a novel that will be published simultaneously with Serena's novel of the same name

From the author of Last Words on Earth – an reimagining of Roberto Bolaño's life – comes a book articulating the final years of Aliocha Coll, one of Spain's most innovative writers as he completes his masterpiece, Attila.

Living alone in Paris, estranged from his family, suffering from heartbreak and possibly madness, Alioscha Coll works with saintly intensity on what will be his final manuscript: Attila. Once the final words have been written, he vows to end his life, convinced that his existence will lose all purpose.

Told through the viewpoint of a literary critic and journalist, Attila expands Javier Serena's investigation into artists who remained dedicated to their art.

ATTILA

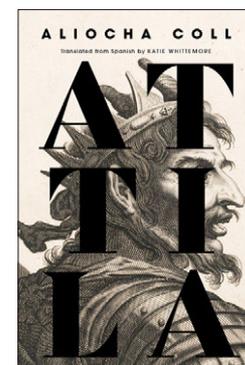

ALIOCHA COLL, TRANSLATED BY KATIE WHITEMORE

- Attila has frequently been referred to as 'incomprehensible' and 'impossible to translate', marking this translation as a true artistic triumph

'My life will not make any sense when Attila is finished,' declared Aliocha Coll about his mesmerising final novel. In this groundbreaking 'untranslatable' work, he channels Joycean experimentalism to explore the fragility of empires, the future of the city, and the weight of legacy.

Attila the Hun, reimagined as a visionary leader, contemplates the fate of his people at the gates of Rome. His son, Quijote, is caught between empires and ideals, forced to choose between his father's vision of a Hunnic utopia and the decaying allure of Roman civilisation. As Rome burns, Quijote journeys through both real and surreal landscapes, encountering psychedelic visions, mystical revelations, and existential dilemmas.

Quijote's journey blurs the lines between past and future, uniting Biblical, Classical, and Buddhist traditions while moving between planes of existence.

THE GET OFF

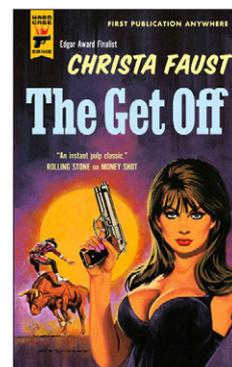

CHRISTA FAUST

- For fans of Christa Faust's Money Shot and Choke Hold
- A stunning standalone novel, The Get Off also brings Angel Dare's story to a powerful and moving conclusion

The first Angel Dare novel, Money Shot, earned universal acclaim: finalist for the Edgar, Anthony and Barry Awards, won the Crimespree Award and chosen by fans as their favourite Hard Case Crime title of all time. Angel's story continued in Choke Hold and – after almost 15 years – it comes to a blazing conclusion in The Get Off.

Will the chance for a new life be Angel's last shot? Tagged as a cop killer when a mission of vengeance goes wrong, Angel Dare finds herself on the run, with an unexpected burden: she's pregnant. Her desperate flight takes Angel across the American west, where cattle barons lock horns with rodeo bullfighters and life can end suddenly and brutally. A renegade couple living off the grid near the border might offer a chance of escape – but can Angel reach them in time...?

THE STRANGE CASE OF DR. JEKYLL & MR. HYDE & OTHER STORIES

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

- The Signature Editions series includes the best-known works of the literary canon and champions a diverse vision of classic literature

What a study in contrasts is the friendship between Henry Jekyll and his boon companion, Edward Hyde. Where Jekyll is a handsome and respected man of science, Hyde is a surly and brutish misanthrope. Nevertheless, Jekyll has allowed Hyde free access to his home and laboratory and, surprisingly, made him the sole beneficiary of his will. Given the closeness of their bond, it seems peculiar that no one has ever seen the two men together in public. And yet they share a remarkable chemistry...

The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde is Robert Louis Stevenson's classic tale of the duality of human nature and his iconic presentation of what would come to be referred to as the 'split personality'.

CONAN THE BARBARIAN

Battle Of The Black Stone

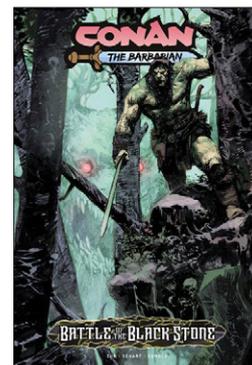

JIM ZUB, ILLUSTRATED BY JONAS SCHARF, JOAO CANOLA

- This all-new collection expands on the legendary saga of Conan and the world of Robert E. Howard's creations in an epic new crossover
- Written by the award-winning Jim Zub and drawn by brand new artist Jonas Scharf, this volume has a stunningly unique aesthetic which sets it apart from the regular series, but with the overarching story tying it together

The legendary roster of characters created by Robert E. Howard, who single-handedly forged a whole new genre – sword and sorcery – are about to collide!

Conan of Cimmeria is haunted by shadows, living nightmares connected to a mysterious eye symbol etched in black stone. The unspeakable evil foretold by Thulsa Doom looms over the Hyborian Age and every age connected to it...and it will take more than a lone barbarian to stop its relentless march upon time, space, and sanity.

CONAN THE BARBARIAN: THE ORIGINAL COMICS OMNIBUS VOL. 4

ROY THOMAS, ILLUSTRATED BY JOHN BUSCEMA

- The definitive comic book adaptation of Conan
- Roy Thomas introduced the sword-and-sorcery genre to comic books
- This Omnibus collects over 800 pages of classic Conan the Barbarian comic strip action, beautifully remastered and recoloured to dazzling effect!

Roy Thomas' decade-long original run on Conan the Barbarian ranks as one of the greatest in comic book history, and it was crucial in making Conan an icon known the world over! In this action-packed Omnibus, Roy and artistic collaborator John Buscema bring the saga of Belit and her quest for the crown of Asgulun to a conclusion. It's a tale that will forever change Conan's life – and the adventures that follow feature a more savage Conan, fiercer than ever and truly unbound!

THE SAVAGE SWORD OF CONAN

The Original Comics Omnibus Vol. 4

- Featuring artwork from one of the greatest comic book artists of all times, John Buscema, whose artwork came to typify the look of Conan to this day

Conan returns for another massive Omnibus collection! The barbarian wields his savage sword against a massive winged monster that guards a tower holding a weather-controlling gem – then finds himself surrounded by an army of Picts with their own witch-doctor protector!

In The Treasure of Trancos, Conan matches wits with a band of pirates who'd rather kill each other than share any of the loot – all while the wicked Thoth-Amon stalks them from the shadows. And the four-part epic Conan the Liberator sees Conan realise his destiny as he raises an army to overthrow the mad king Numedides! Featuring the stories by Roy Thomas with stunning art by John Buscema, Gil Kane and more!

CARPENTARIA

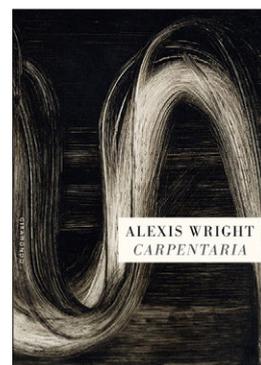

ALEXIS WRIGHT

- One of the classics of Australian literature, Alexis Wright's Miles Franklin award-winning novel is being rereleased in a new edition designed by Jenny Grigg

Carpentaria is an epic of the Gulf country of north-western Queensland. Its portrait of life in the precariously settled coastal town of Desperance centres on the powerful Phantom family, leader of the Westend Pricklebush people, and its battles with old Joseph Midnight's renegade Eastend mob 2007 on the one hand, and the white officials of Uptown and the neighbouring Gurfurrit mine on the other. Wright's storytelling is operatic and surreal: a blend of myth and scripture, politics and farce.

THE SWAN BOOK

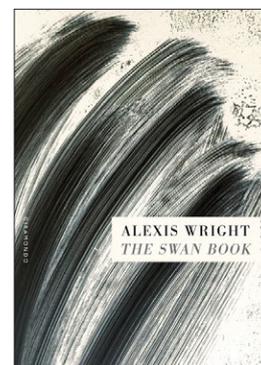

ALEXIS WRIGHT

- Originally published in 2014, Alexis Wright's classic novel The Swan Book is being rereleased in a new edition designed by Jenny Grigg

The Swan Book is set in the future, with Aboriginal people still living under the Intervention in the north, in an environment fundamentally altered by climate change. It follows the life of a mute young woman called Oblivia, the victim of gang rape by petrol-sniffing youths, from the displaced community where she lives in a hulk, in a swamp filled with rusting boats, and thousands of black swans, to her marriage to Warren Finch, the first Aboriginal president of Australia, and her elevation to the position of First Lady, confined to a tower in a flooded and lawless southern city. The Swan Book offers an intimate awareness of the realities facing Aboriginal people.

THE CHERRY PICKER'S DAUGHTER

AUNTY KERRY REED-GILBERT

- This second edition of The Cherry Picker's Daughter is an exquisite portrait of growing up Aboriginal on the fringes of outback towns in NSW in the mid-twentieth century

The strength of family ties in Aboriginal communities is clearly evident when three-month-old Kerry and her brother lost both parents. Her father, Kevin Gilbert — later to become a famous activist and artist — killed their mother and was jailed for many years. Her father's sister, whom she always called 'Mummy', raised Kerry and her brother, along with her own children and others within the extended family. The book is a tribute to this truly remarkable woman, who not only loved them selflessly and worked tirelessly to support them, but also managed to keep them from being taken/'stolen' by the 'Welfare'.
