

FUNGA OBSCURA

ALISON POULIOT

- From the bestselling author of Wild Mushrooming (CSIRO, 2021) and Underground Lovers (NewSouth, 2023) comes a stunning collection of fungi photography from across Australia and the globe
- An ideal entry point into the world of fungi, as well as a visual feast for the fungi expert, the book brings together over 100 stunning photographs of both well-known and hard-to-spot mushrooms, lichen and other fungal species
- All photographs are taken by the author and are accompanied by her tales of adventure and exploration on the road in search of fungi

'I scanned the forest floor around me. I couldn't yet see fungi, but I could smell them. Lowering my nose to the ground, I inhaled a distinctive fungal funk. I rolled over some bark and there they were! Gossamer threads of mycelia wended their way through the layers, weaving them together. Soon these furtive fungi would fashion their mycelia into mushrooms and heave their way through the earth.'

This book is about fungi, and the photography of fungi. The title Funga Obscura unites the two. Beginning in elemental landscapes of ice and rock, the book traces the evolutionary path of fungi as enablers of life on land, and creators of soils and forests. Crossing continents and ecosystems, we navigate lichen-covered landscapes, crawl in the fungal undergrowth, scale glacial extremes and duck between rainforest shadows.

Alison Pouliot, ecologist and environmental photographer, captures these remarkable lifeforms in this visual love letter to fungi.

JANE AUSTEN IN 41 OBJECTS

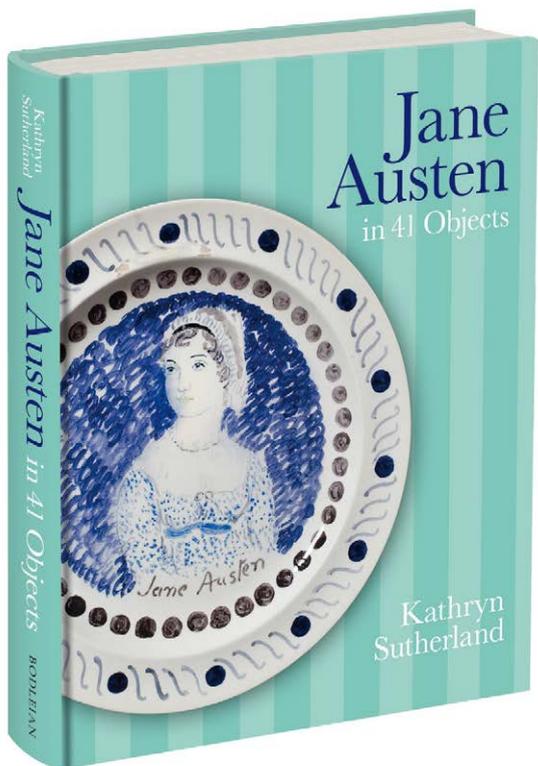

KATHRYN SUTHERLAND

- A fascinating insight into the life of one of our best-loved authors through the biographies of objects that crossed her path in life and afterward

More than 200 years after Jane Austen's death at the age of just forty-one, we are still looking for clues about this extraordinary writer's life. What might we learn if we take a glimpse inside the biographies of objects that crossed her path in life and afterwards things that she cherished or cast aside, or that furnished the world in which she moved, or that have themselves been inspired by her legacy?

Among objects described in this book are a teenage notebook, a muslin shawl, a wallpaper fragment, a tea caddy, the theatrical poster for a play she attended and the dining-room grate at Chawton Cottage where she lived. Poignantly, the last manuscript page of her unfinished novel and a lock of hair kept by her devoted sister, Cassandra, are also featured. Objects contributing to Jane Austen's rich cultural legacy include a dinner plate decorated by Bloomsbury artists Vanessa Bell and Duncan Grant, Grayson Perry's commemorative pot from 2009 and Mr Darcy's wet shirt, worn by Colin Firth in the 1995 BBC adaptation.

This is a different kind of biography, in which objects with their own histories offer shifting entry points into Jane Austen's life. Each object illustrated in colour invites us to meet Jane Austen at a particular moment when her life intersects with theirs, speaking eloquently of past lives and shedding new light on one of our best-loved authors.

Jane Austen plate, Charleston, 1932–34

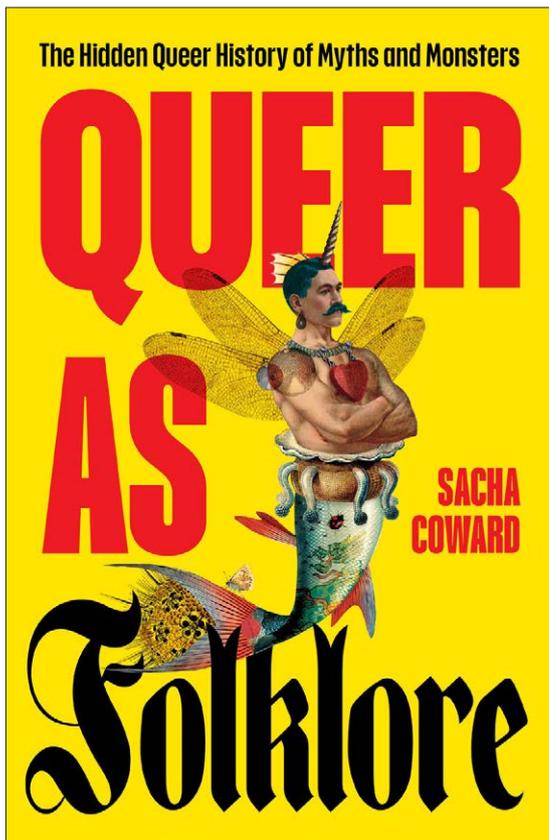

This is one from a collection of fifty hand-decorated plates, an open-ended commission from the art historian Kenneth Clark and his wife Jane. Together they made up the Famous Women Dinner Service, compiled by Vanessa Bell and Duncan Grant between 1932 and 1934 at Charleston, their Sussex home. Asking for a high-end service, with crests, mustard pots and sauce boats, the Clarks in fact received three portraits on dinner plates. Plain, white, footed Wedgwood plates (25.5 cm or 10 inches in diameter), they depict noble writers, noble dancers and actors, noble queens and noble beauties; the final two plates showing Bill and Gertie, the only man in the series. A female history is laid out upon everyday domestic objects that also capture the Bloomsbury ethos, challenging divisions between the high and decorative arts and questioning social and sexual arrangements.

Marianne Knight's dancing slippers

These dancing slippers belonged to Marianne Knight (1804–1876), the seventh child of Jane Austen's brother Edward and his wife Elizabeth. She Jane would have owned pairs just like these. In one of her almost teenage stories, a fictional character Elizabeth Johnson recounts how she and her sister Fanny, having worn out several pairs of shoes in running across Wales, finally borrow a pair of Mary's 'Blue Satin Slippers' and, taking one each, 'hopped home from Hereford delightfully'. 'Delicious, several hours for the evening and the ballroom, satin slippers would scarcely survive normal outdoor walking, never mind a westerly march through Wales.' 'Social status and fashion conspired to make gosh-women's footwear of every sort flimsy. Dancing slippers were flimsiest of all, often disappearing in the course of a single evening's wear. QUEER AS FOLKLORE

The Hidden Queer History of Myths and Monsters

SACHA COWARD, FOREWORD BY JOANNE HARRIS

- Foreword by author of Chocolat (1999), Joanne Harris, which was made into an Oscar-nominated film
- Images of artefacts and other visual references accompany Sacha's thorough research, as well as five beautiful illustrations by artist Beto Val
- Sacha has hosted the sold-out event 'Dragged Through History' featuring drag queens from RuPaul's Drag Race UK such as Sum Ting Wong, Tia Kofi and Divina De Campo
- Widely published author who has written articles for a huge number of publications including Metro, Gay Star News, National Theatre, Art UK, Queer Bible, Royal Museums Greenwich, and Dig It Scotland, with a focus on LGBTQ+ history and underrepresented audiences in mythology and folklore

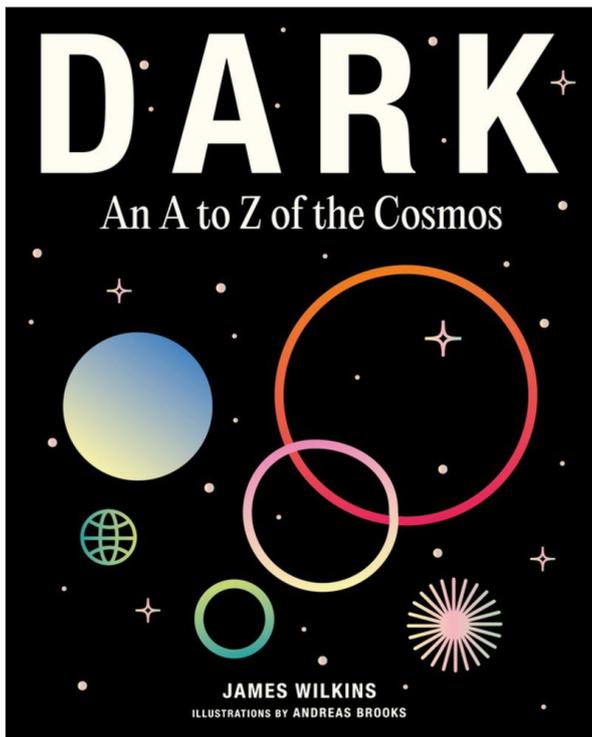

Queer as Folklore takes readers across centuries and continents to reveal the unsung heroes and villains of storytelling, magic and fantasy. Featuring images from archives, galleries and museums around the world, each chapter investigates the queer history of different mythic and folkloric characters, both old and new.

Leaving no headstone unturned, Sacha Coward will take you on a wild ride through the night from ancient Greece to the main stage of RuPaul's Drag Race, visiting cross-dressing pirates, radical fairies and the graves of the 'queerly departed' along the way. Queer communities have often sought refuge in the shadows, found kinship in the in-between and created safe spaces in underworlds; but these forgotten narratives tell stories of remarkable resilience that deserve to be heard.

Join any Pride march and you are likely to see a glorious display of papier-mâché unicorn heads trailing sequins, drag queens wearing mermaid tails and more fairy wings than you can shake a trident at. But these are not just accessories: they are queer symbols with historic roots.

To truly understand who queer people are today, we must confront the twisted tales of the past and Queer as Folklore is a celebration of queer history like you've never seen it before.

'One delight after another. Told with an open heart, a questing curiosity, and a healthy sense of mischief, Queer as Folklore is essential for every seeker of hidden histories.' – Patrick Ness, author of the Chaos Walking series

At its very best, photojournalism can define a moment, a movement, an era or a whole generation. It can bring down a careless politician or elevate them to a winning status, it can lift a weary spirit and sometimes it can move opinions and the way we view the world.

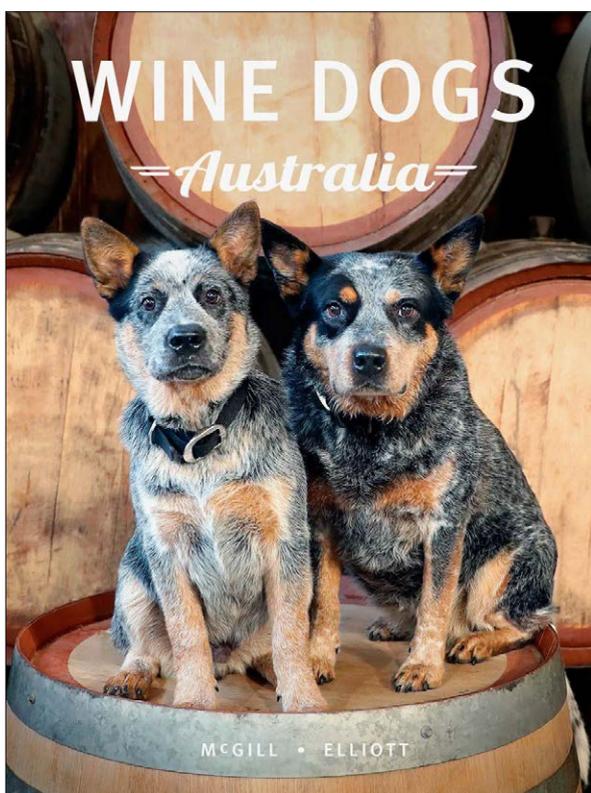

Photographer and media commentator Mike Bowers explores the Fairfax Photographic Archive held by the National Library of Australia. This collection comprises over 18,000 glass-plate negatives. Most of the images were captured in New South Wales, while other parts of Australia make up a smaller portion of the collection. Photographs from these negatives appeared in Fairfax publications such as The Sydney Morning Herald, The Sun and Sydney Mail.

Covering the period 1890-1948, the collection covers a range of themes, including: rural and urban scenes, industry, politicians, celebrities, photographs of daily life and special events (such as the opening of the Sydney Harbour bridge), sporting and social events and more. In creating photographs for mainstream publications, the early photojournalists familiarised Australians with a new visual language of the news.

About the author:

Mike Bowers found his love of photography while still at school. After working in the darkrooms of The Australian National University and The Australian War Memorial in Canberra he embarked on a career in photojournalism. Mike spent 14 years in the Federal Parliamentary Press Gallery working for a number of publications including The Australian, The Age, BRW, Time, The Daily Telegraph and The Sydney Morning Herald. He covered five federal election campaigns and has accompanied three prime ministers on assignments both around Australia and overseas. He has published three books; Gallipoli Untold Stories, The Big Picture 175 Years of The Sydney Morning Herald and A Century of Pictures, 100 years of Herald photography. Mike is now a freelance photographer and host of Talking Pictures on Insiders on ABC1 at 9:00am on Sunday.

AGE OF DOUBT

Building Trust in a World of Misinformation
EDITED BY TRACEY KIRKLAND, GAVIN FANG

- Age of Doubt* explores the origins of our misinformation culture and its impact on democracy. It looks at the moral and ethical foundations our institutions are built on, and shines a light on the media and its role in sorting fact from fiction

Today, trust seems harder to find than ever before. It's hardly surprising we feel that way. Our politics is polarised, our online world is awash with misinformation, and we've lost faith in our bedrock institutions. Yet, without trust, we cannot work together to solve the big problems we face. But there is a way back. A way to rediscover trust in our leaders and institutions. A way to tackle the doubt.

This insightful collection of essays brings together top thinkers from across the globe in media, science, government, academia and business to examine how and why trust is disappearing, and how we might navigate these confusing times.

Expert minds in business, science and law enforcement explain how to maintain trust and how easily it can be broken, and leaders on the front line of technological development describe the influence of bots, conspiracy theories and generative AI.

If we are to address the big issues facing our world, then we must have trust, because without it we have no sense of shared reality. Alone, we can't do it. Together, we might.

WATTLES OF VICTORIA AND TASMANIA

NEVILLE WALSH, DANIEL J. MURPHY, ARTHUR COURT, ALAN GIBB

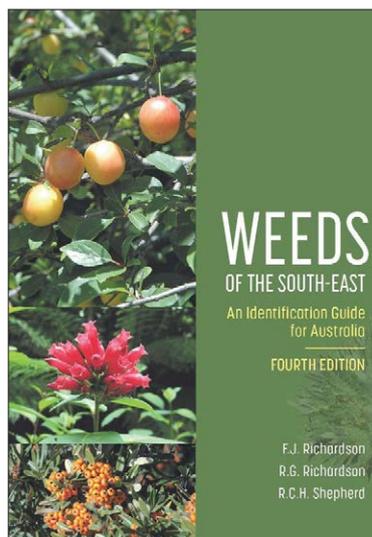

- Provides comprehensive coverage of all species of Acacia known to be growing wild in Victoria and Tasmania
- Includes keys to all species
- Features photographs (habit, flowers, fruits, seeds) and maps for all species

Wattles (Acacia) are among the most vibrant plants in the southern Australian bush, with their iconic yellow blooms particularly visible in late winter and spring. As the largest genus of flowering plant in Australia, they are one of the most resilient, recognisable and culturally significant native plants. However, they can be difficult to identify at a species level.

This comprehensive guide to all 121 species and subspecies of wattles found in Victoria and Tasmania includes notes on the habitat, distribution and special properties of each species. Identification keys, high-quality field photos and distribution maps enable easy identification, and fascinating detail on the etymology of species names, their use as food and the taxonomic history of the group is also included.

WEEDS OF THE SOUTH-EAST

An Identification Guide for Australia

F. J. RICHARDSON, R. G. RICHARDSON, R. C. H. SHEPHERD

- Species include weeds of agriculture, bushland, waterways, gardens, roadsides, wasteland and amenity areas, as well as new and emerging problem species
- Illustrated with more than 3,000 photographs, including spectacular close-up shots
- Key features are described with relevant measurements for easier identification
- Comparisons are made to similar species and easily confused natives

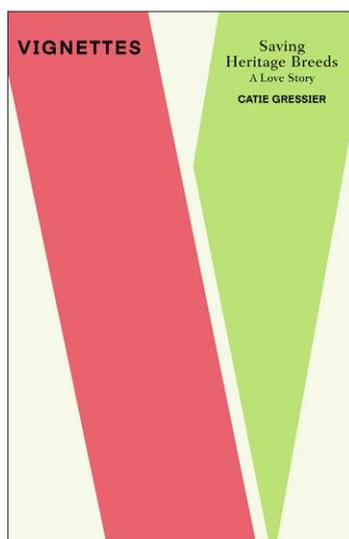

Weeds of the South-East is a comprehensive identification guide to weeds found in the South-East region of Australia, covering the whole of Victoria, Tasmania and the Australian Capital Territory, the southern half of New South Wales and the south-eastern section of South Australia. This fourth edition has been thoroughly updated to include recent changes in nomenclature, bringing all species and genus names in line with the current Australian Plant Census.

Beautifully illustrated, this is a detailed guide for anyone interested in the identification of pest plants and the preservation of our native flora. It is an essential tool for community land and bushcare organisations, local and state government weed officers and advisers, rangers, agronomists, agriculturists, survey and identification botanists, horticulturists, landscapers and gardeners.

SAVING HERITAGE BREEDS

A Love Story

CATIE GRESSIER

- Saving Heritage Breeds* is the third book in the new non-fiction series, Vignettes, from UWA Publishing

Driving through the countryside, you may have you noticed that nowadays it's paddock after paddock of merino sheep, while virtually every cow lining up for milking is black and white. Your neighbours' backyard chooks are likely to be Isa Browns. You probably can't even remember the last time you saw a pig, because they're all hidden away in sheds.

An extinction crisis is quietly unfolding on our farms. Since mid-last century, advancements in animal husbandry have resulted in the global adoption of a small number of fast-growing, high-yielding livestock types. While performance and profitability gains have been extraordinary, they have led to the extinction of a unique livestock breed globally each month for over three decades. This book tells the story of the Australian farmers working hard to save the remaining heritage breeds of cattle, sheep, pigs and poultry. Gressier argues that heritage breed farmers are motivated by one of the most powerful conservation tools we have: love.

Catie Gressier is an Adjunct Research Fellow in the School of Agriculture and Environment at the University of Western Australia, and a PhD candidate in Creative Writing at Curtin University.

CONNECTED CARE

Digital Health in Australia

RICHARD ROYLE, DAVID HANSEN

- In the National Interest* offers serious general readers evidence-based arguments that spark informed debate on the issues that matter

Imagine a time when any patient, no matter who they are or where they live, can visit their doctor or specialist online and immediately access all the relevant diagnostic information and medical records a time when a holistic view of a person's health data and outcomes is literally always at their fingertips. Some of this is a reality now, but the system is clunky, incomplete and inefficient. The fact is that the health sector in Australia, in comparison to industries such as banking and commerce, has been slow to adopt digital methodologies. And even when it has, there has been a frustrating lack of connectivity between e-health technologies, confronting clinicians and consumers alike with information silos.

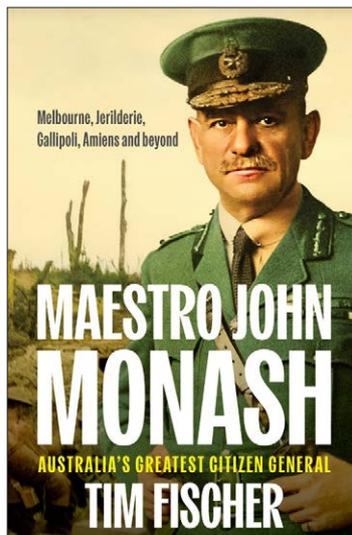

Richard Royle and David Hansen have been closely involved in e-health in Australia for over two decades and are committed to the creation of a digital health system that enables connected care for consumers and health providers across the country. With this goal in mind, in Connected Care: Digital Health in Australia they outline the challenges ahead, and what governments and health providers can do to help build and encourage the uptake of the necessary technology.

MAESTRO JOHN MONASH

Australia's Greatest Citizen General

- The Honourable Tim Fischer AC was a former deputy prime minister of Australia. A former Australian Army officer, NSW state parliamentarian, leader of the National Party and minister for trade, Tim Fischer was also a consultant, company director, author, broadcaster, and multiple patron

Who was the most innovative general of World War One? For Tim Fischer, the answer has to be Australia's 'Maestro' John Monash, a man who, for all the recognition he received in his lifetime and after, has arguably not been given his proper due. Fischer also asks why Monash, Australian Army Corps Commander, was never promoted to Field Marshal, postwar, as international precedent suggested was most appropriate, pointing the finger primarily at the Australian prime minister of the time, Billy Hughes, within a wider context of establishment suspicion towards this son of a German Jewish migrant.

DRESSED IN BLACK

The Shangri-Las and Their Recorded Legacy
LISA MACKINNEY

- The first full-length history of the Shangri-Las, one of the most significant – and most misunderstood – pop groups of the 1960s

Sisters Mary and Betty Weiss, together with twins Mary Ann and Marguerite Ganser, were schoolgirls when they formed the Shangri-Las in 1963, and had a meteoric rise to fame with songs like 'Leader of the Pack' and 'Remember (Walking in the Sand)'. Their career was cut short for reasons largely beyond their control, derailed by the machinations of Mafia-linked record executives, and heartbreak and tragedy followed. Historian Lisa MacKinney marshals an impressive array of new evidence to tell the Shangri-Las' story, dispelling many myths and long-standing mysteries along the way.

Equally importantly, Dressed in Black radically rewrites the accepted narrative of the Shangri-Las' place in rock history. As young women, they were permitted little agency within a male-dominated industry that viewed teenagers as fodder to be manipulated and exploited by producers, songwriters, and label owners. For decades, this has served as an excuse for critics to deny the musical input of the group members, to trivialise the Shangri-Las as a 'girl group,' and to assign their work a lesser rank in the canon of 'authentic' rock and roll. MacKinney's great achievement here is to foreground the Shangri-Las' considerable abilities and musicality, and establish the centrality of their performance of their songs to the group's underappreciated artistic achievement.

FROM CONVICT PRINTERS TO BOOK ARCADES

A History of the Book Volume 1: 1788-1890
 EDITED BY WALLACE KIRSOP, ELIZABETH WEBBY, JUDY DONNELLY

- European printing technology came in the 1790s to a continent where there were – and still are – age-old modes of communication developed by Indigenous Australians
- The present volume, while recognising this essential prehistory, is devoted to the print civilisation imported by the newcomers

Throughout the nineteenth century books, magazines and newspapers arrived in great quantities from elsewhere, notably the British Isles. Appropriate means of distribution – bookshops and libraries – were created in the various colonies, but, as the population grew after the gold rushes, local manufacturing became evermore necessary.

From the efforts of convict and ex-convict printers before 1820 to the achievements of numerous professionals after 1850, one can follow the expansion of production, dissemination and reading. Alongside the Bush, there were urban centres like Melbourne and Sydney, ranking in size with many major European cities by 1890. Thus, it was possible to find in Victoria’s capital what was plausibly claimed to be the biggest bookshop in the world: Cole’s Book Arcade.

The Strange and Essential Proteins That Can Cause Alzheimer’s, Parkinson’s, and Other Diseases
 MICHEL BRAHIC

- The remarkable family of proteins that can make us very ill but can also be linked to long-term memory, immunity, and the origin of life

Over the last decade, scientists have discovered the importance and widespread presence in the body of a remarkable family of proteins known as prion proteins. Research links various types of prion proteins to neurodegenerative diseases such as Parkinson’s and Alzheimer’s and this has fuelled the search for new drugs that could halt the progression of these terrible disorders. Other discoveries have revealed the essential roles prion proteins play in memory and immunity, and in an extraordinary finding the part they may have played in the beginnings of life on our planet. In this engaging and accessible book, Michel Brahic tells the story of these amazing and versatile proteins.

Brahic, a leading researcher on diseases of the central nervous system, first describes the discovery of prions and their role in infection, beginning with early work on the animal disease scrapie and a mysterious human illness in New Guinea, apparently transmitted by cannibalism. Prions were eventually identified and named by Stanley Prusiner in the 1980s. (Brahic tells us Prusiner’s alternate name for prion was ‘piaf’.)

UNCOVERING DINOSAUR BEHAVIOR

What They Did and How We Know

DAVID HONE

- How scientists are unravelling one of the most tantalising questions in paleontology

Our understanding of dinosaur behaviour has long been hampered by the inevitable lack of evidence from animals that went extinct more than sixty-five million years ago and whose daily behaviours are rarely reflected by the fossil record. Today, with the discovery of new specimens and the development of new and cutting-edge techniques, paleontologists are making major advances in reconstructing how dinosaurs lived and acted.

Uncovering Dinosaur Behavior provides an unparalleled look at this emerging field of science, presenting the latest findings on dinosaur behaviour and explaining how researchers interpret the often minimal and even conflicting information available to them.

David Hone begins by introducing readers to the fundamentals of dinosaur biology, diversity, and evolution, and goes on to describe behaviours across the whole range of species and groups, from feeding and communication to reproduction, sociality, and combat. Speculation about dinosaur behaviour goes back to the earliest scientific studies of these 'terrible lizards'. Hone traces how pioneering science is opening a window into prehistoric life as never before, and discusses future directions of research in this thrilling and rapidly growing area of paleontology.

HOW BIRDS EVOLVE

What Science Reveals about Their Origin, Lives, and Diversity

DOUGLAS J. FUTUYMA

- A marvellous journey into the world of bird evolution

How Birds Evolve explores how evolution has shaped the distinctive characteristics and behaviours we observe in birds today. Douglas Futuyma describes how evolutionary science illuminates the wonders of birds, ranging over topics such as the meaning and origin of species, the evolutionary history of bird diversity, and the evolution of avian reproductive behaviours, plumage ornaments, and social behaviours.

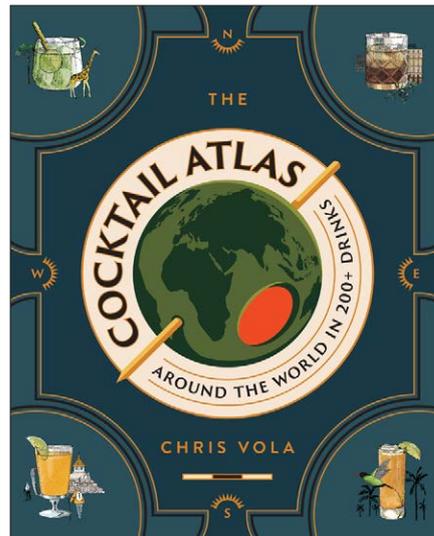

In this multifaceted book, Futuyma examines how birds evolved from nonavian dinosaurs and reveals what we can learn from the 'family tree' of birds. He looks at the ways natural selection enables different forms of the same species to persist, and discusses how adaptation by natural selection accounts for the diverse life histories of birds and the rich variety of avian parenting styles, mating displays, and cooperative behaviours. He explains why some parts of the planet have so many more species than others, and asks what an evolutionary perspective brings to urgent questions about bird extinction and habitat destruction. Along the way, Futuyma provides an insider's perspective on how biologists practice evolutionary science, from studying the fossil record to comparing DNA sequences among and within species.

CHRIS VOLA

- The Cocktail Atlas takes readers around the world, through the lens of a cocktail glass, exploring the links between people, place, and taste
- The package is a three-piece case with a cloth-like spine and debossed panel, positioning it as an evergreen gift for any occasion, especially for dads and guys who are difficult to shop for

Organised by continent, each country covered has a thorough (and often rollicking) description of its customs, indigenous food and drink, topography, distilling traditions, and cocktail scene. These are followed by at least one cocktail recipe, which is either an iconic beverage of the land or an original interpretation inspired by local ingredients, as well as nuggets and tidbits of knowledge guaranteed to come in handy at the next pub quiz. Visit Lebanon through a Za'atar Paloma; Cyprus via a Cypriot Brandy Sour; or the tiny Pacific island of Nauru through a Coffee Pineapple Old Fashioned.

Accompanied by illustrations of the cocktails and maps of each continent, this book is an exhaustively comprehensive, extensively researched, uniquely lively, and informative addition to any cocktail library perfect for novice or seasoned mixologists and world history buffs alike.

A SILK ROAD OASIS

Life in Ancient Dunhuang
MELODIE DOUMY

- Detailing life in and around Dunhuang during the first millennium, this book draws on personal letters, wills, paintings, sculptures and more, encompassing several languages, faiths and cultures including Buddhism, Zoroastrianism, Manichaeism and Christianity; and spans topics as diverse as literature, astronomy, medicine, politics and art

The oasis of Dunhuang, at the edge of the Gobi Desert, was once a bustling town on the famous Silk Road connecting China and the Mediterranean. But there was more to this verdant oasis than trade. For more than 1,000 years, Dunhuang was also an important pilgrimage site, a cultural melting pot where ideas, technologies and art flowed freely. People from many cultures lived, travelled through, worked and worshipped here.

In the remarkable Buddhist cave complex just outside Dunhuang, a wealth of manuscripts, documents and artworks remained sealed for nearly 900 years. This astonishing time capsule opens windows onto the intimate worlds of artists and scribes, merchants and fortune-tellers, diplomats, Buddhists and nuns.

A HISTORY OF RAILWAYS IN 100 MAPS

JEREMY BLACK

- Arranged chronologically, and with some 140 newly photographed maps and ephemera from the British Library's cartographic holdings, A History of Railways in 100 Maps explores both the progress of the railways and railway infrastructure across the globe, and through mountains, deserts, cities and even under oceans

Continuing the thematic strand of the successful and proven British Library '100 Maps' series, this new volume traces the fully international history of railways from their beginnings in the north-west of England through to the inter-continental lines of today.

The volume also charts the development of how railways were surveyed and presented in two- and three-dimensional forms for the purposes of engineering and construction, politics, economics and indeed war. A dedicated chapter looks at fantasy and literary railway maps, while the book concludes with a presentation of recent breakthroughs in railway infrastructure, design and mapping and also looks ahead to future developments in this most lasting of transport inventions.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF PICKLES AND FERMENTED FOODS

THOM EAGLE

- A cultural history of pickling and fermentation for enthusiasts and a great general introduction for those who are curious to understand more about these food types and techniques
- An excellent accompaniment for those who are looking to explore gut health and the microbiome

Fermented food is playing a significant role in the developing discussion around gut health and the microbiome. More than the latest health trend, pickling and fermentation are techniques that have been used by human populations across the globe in food preparation for millennia. And they are part of a region's cultural heritage, passed from generation to generation, whether it's the Korean kimjang the making and sharing of kimchi the Japanese preparation of the nukadoko or pickling bed, or the brine-fermented fruits and vegetables of Georgia.

Thom Eagle celebrates this fascinating history, explaining the different techniques and offering practical advice for enthusiasts.

- This book that explores pudding's enduring popularity and why puddings remain the ultimate comfort food
- Written by a chef, this is a thorough cultural history of the pudding in all its incarnations

Just what is a pudding? We all have our favourites, whether it is a school-dinner jam roly-poly with custard, or a Yorkshire pud with onion gravy, a Burns' Night haggis or the Christmas plum pudding. The humble pudding started out as a savoury meal boiled in either animal intestine or in a cloth. With the advent of pudding bowls and moulds the pudding assumed a myriad of identities.

Neil Buttery traces the long history of pudding and its importance in British culture and language. He has tried and tested many recipes from across the centuries in his 'Pud Club' and shares his extensive knowledge and expertise.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF BEARDS

THOMAS S. GOWING

- This eccentric Victorian book argues a strong case for the universal wearing of a beard – that essential symbol of manly distinction since ancient times

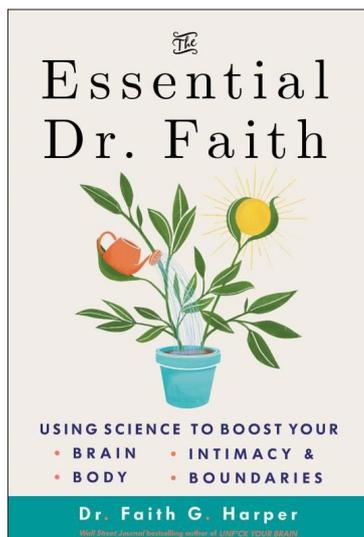

'The absence of Beard is usually a sign of physical and moral weakness.' 'Take two drawings of the head of a lion, one with and the other without the mane. You will see how much of the majesty of the king of the woods, as well as that of the lord of the earth, dwells in this free-flowing appendage.' 'There is scarcely a more naturally disgusting object than a beardless old man.'

Thomas S. Gowing contrasts the vigour and daring of bearded men through history with the undeniable effeminacy of the clean-shaven. He reminds the modern man that 'ladies, by their very nature, like everything manly', and cannot fail to be charmed by a 'fine flow of curling comeliness'.

- With full-colour art throughout and a foil stamped cover, this book will make an excellent gift or just a lovely object to have on the shelf
- Chloé Zarka Grinsnir has a passion for tea magick and has illustrated a number of graphics depicting tea spells that have garnered thousands of 'likes' each on Instagram. Her love of this subject and its aesthetics is strong throughout this book

Brewing a cup of tea can lead to a variety of exciting magical practices, and Tea Magic is the perfect, gorgeously illustrated guide.

A steaming cup of tea can be the perfect source of comfort on a brisk fall day and, as Chloé Zarka Grinsnir's fascinating book reveals, it is also a potent form of magic that can be effortlessly used to add magic to day-to-day life. Little things done with intent can have great power, and the ritual of tea drinking itself can bring strength during difficult times, energise ordinary tasks with positivity when a new opportunity arises, or provide a deep and necessary connection to intuition in situations that may seem unclear.

A LITTLE BIT OF LUCID DREAMING

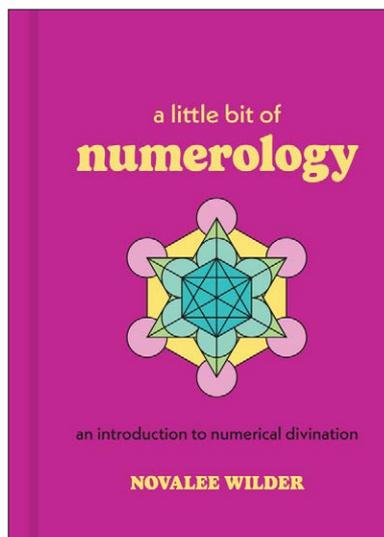

An Introduction to Dream Manipulation

CYRENA LEE

- An introduction to the practice of lucid dreaming including instructions on how to do it yourself

Lucid dreaming is, simply put, the realisation that you are dreaming. It is to wake up inside a dream, and to know that everything you see before you is a product of your imagination and consciousness. It can be disorienting, but once you know that, you can actually take control of your dream. Cyrena Lee, a longtime expert on the topic, takes you through the history of lucid dreaming from ancient times to the present. She describes the therapeutic benefits of the practice, from its use in eliminating sleep issues and increasing your quality of sleep to its role in rewriting past traumas and promoting creativity. She coaches you through exercises to remember dreams, keep a dream journal, fall asleep while fully conscious, and practice dream meditation and dreaming yoga. She even includes some advanced techniques, such as moving objects in dreams and talking to dream characters who can help you achieve clarity in your waking life.

This exciting and accessible look at a growing practice presents uncharted opportunities for personal and spiritual growth.

A LITTLE BIT OF NUMEROLOGY

An Introduction to Numerical Divination

NOVALEE WILDER

- The Little Bit of series has sold over 1.5 million copies combined
- Cute and gifty package
- Contemporary and accessible (though highly authoritative!) voice
- This entry in the popular Little Bit Of series introduces the age-old study of numerology

Through the energetic power of numbers, it's possible to gain insights into the core of who we are and what specific gifts and challenges we are here to master. Practicing numerologist Novalee Wilder provides an overview of the ancient esoteric system of numerology, including its history and origins.

A step-by-step guide shows how to calculate your essence by examining the numbers 1 through 9, and using the results to explore your personality, understand essential life lessons, and figure out goals.

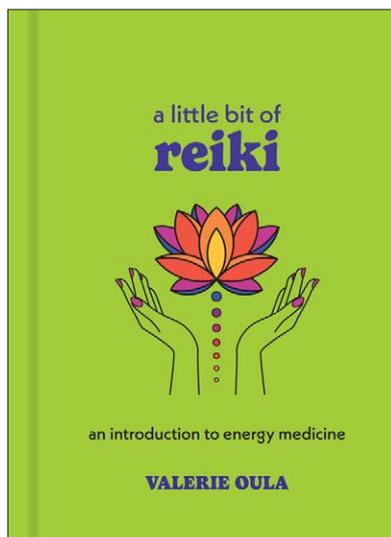

Wilder also discusses the concept of name vibrations, the Numeroscope (a numerologist's greatest tool), understanding others through numerology (using famous figures throughout history as examples), and applying this knowledge to your daily life.

HEZBOLLAH

The Global Footprint of Lebanon's Party of God

MATTHEW LEVITT

- Now in paperback!
- Investigates the financial and logistical support networks of Hezbollah and its criminal and terrorist operations worldwide
- A comprehensive look at Hezbollah from its foundations to its work abroad, including in Europe and the USA

Hezbollah Lebanon's 'Party of God' is a multifaceted organisation: it is a powerful political party in Lebanon, a Shia religious and social movement, Lebanon's largest militia, a close ally of Iran, and a terrorist organisation.

Drawing on a wide range of sources, including recently declassified government documents, court records, and personal interviews with intelligence officials, Matthew Levitt examines Hezbollah's beginnings, its first violent forays in Lebanon, and then its terrorist activities and criminal enterprises abroad in Europe, the Middle East, South America, Southeast Asia, Africa, and finally in North America. He also discusses Hezbollah's unit dedicated to supporting Palestinian militant groups and the group's involvement in training and supporting insurgents who fought US troops in post-Saddam Iraq.

The book concludes with a look at Hezbollah's integral and ongoing role in Iran's 'shadow war' with Israel and the West, including plots targeting civilians around the world.

ISLAMESQUE

The Forgotten Craftsmen Who Built Europe's Medieval Monuments

DIANA DARKE

- A fascinating exploration of Europe's medieval architectural wonders and the Muslim master-builders behind them
- Highlights dramatic discoveries that challenge existing, Euro-centric assumptions about Europe's built heritage
- Author of acclaimed book Stealing from the Saracens

Who really built Europe's finest Romanesque monuments? Clergymen presiding over holy sites are credited throughout history, while highly skilled creators remain anonymous. But the buildings speak for themselves.

This groundbreaking book explores the evidence embedded in medieval monasteries, churches and castles, from Mont Saint-Michel and the Leaning Tower of Pisa to Durham Cathedral and the Basilica of Santiago de Compostela.

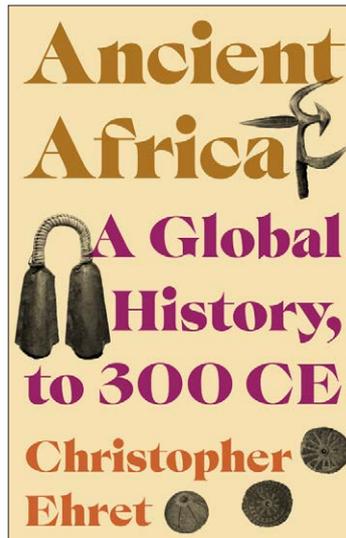

Tracing the origins of key design innovations from this pre-Gothic period acknowledged as the essential foundation of all future European construction styles Diana Darke sheds startling new light on the masons, carpenters and sculptors behind these masterpieces.

GODS AND MORTALS

Ancient Greek Myths for Modern Readers

SARAH ILES JOHNSTON

- Now in paperback!
- An entrancing new telling of ancient Greek myths

Gripping tales that abound with fantastic characters and astonishing twists and turns, Greek myths confront what it means to be mortal in a world of powerful forces beyond human control. Little wonder that they continue to fascinate readers thousands of years after they were first told.

Gods and Mortals is a major new telling of ancient Greek myths by one of the world’s preeminent experts. In a fresh, vibrant, and compelling style that draws readers into the lives of the characters, Sarah Iles Johnston offers new narrations of all the best-known tales as well as others that are seldom told, taking readers on an enthralling journey from the origin of the cosmos to the aftermath of the Trojan War.

Some of the mortals in these stories are cursed by the gods, while luckier ones are blessed with resourcefulness and resilience. Gods transform themselves into animals, humans, and shimmering gold to visit the earth in disguise where they sometimes transform offending mortals into new forms, too: a wolf, a spider, a craggy rock. Other mortals both women and men use their wits and strength to conquer the monsters created by the gods: gorgons, dragons, harpies, fire-breathing bulls.

ANCIENT AFRICA

A Global History, to 300 CE

CHRISTOPHER EHRET

- Now in paperback!
- A panoramic narrative that places ancient Africa on the stage of world history

This book brings together archaeological and linguistic evidence to provide a sweeping global history of ancient Africa, tracing how the continent played an important role in the technological, agricultural, and economic transitions of world civilisation. Christopher Ehret takes readers from the close of the last Ice Age some ten thousand years ago, when a changing climate allowed for the transition from hunting and gathering to the cultivation of crops and raising of livestock, to the rise of kingdoms and empires in the first centuries of the common era.

Ehret takes up the problem of how we discuss Africa in the context of global history, combining results of multiple disciplines. He sheds light on the rich history of technological innovation by African societies from advances in ceramics to cotton weaving and iron smelting highlighting the important contributions of women as inventors and innovators. He shows how Africa helped to usher in an age of agricultural exchange, exporting essential crops as well as new agricultural methods into other regions, and how African traders and merchants led a commercial revolution spanning diverse regions and cultures. Ehret lays out the deeply African foundations of ancient Egyptian culture, beliefs, and institutions and discusses early Christianity in Africa.

HIDDEN IN THE HEAVENS

How the Kepler Mission's Quest for New Planets Changed How We View Our Own
 DR JASON STEFFEN

- An insider's account of the NASA mission that changed our understanding of planets, planetary systems, and the stars they orbit

Are we alone in the universe? It's a fundamental question for Earth-dwelling humankind. Are there other worlds like ours, out there somewhere? In Hidden in the Heavens, Jason Steffen, a former scientist on NASA's Kepler mission, describes how that mission searched for planets orbiting Sun-like stars especially Earth-like planets circulating in Earth-like orbits. What the Kepler space telescope found, Steffen reports, contradicted centuries of theoretical and observational work and transformed our understanding of planets, planetary systems, and the stars they orbit.

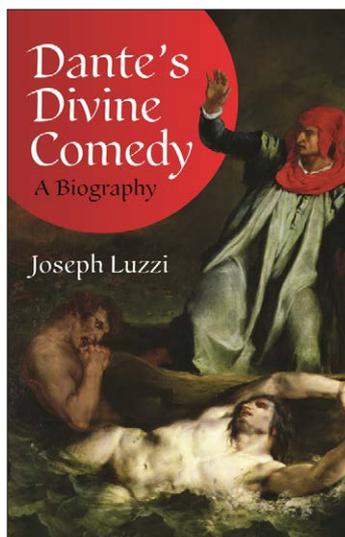

Kepler discovered thousands of planets orbiting distant stars a bewildering variety of celestial bodies, including rocky planets being vaporised by the intense heat of their host star; super-Earths and sub-Neptunes, with properties simultaneously similar to and different from both Earth and Neptune; gas giants several times the size and mass of Jupiter; and planets orbiting in stellar systems that had only been imagined in science fiction.

It was, Steffen says, the opportunity of a lifetime to work in the most exciting scientific field on the most awe-inspiring mission.

DANTE'S 'DIVINE COMEDY'

A Biography
 JOSEPH LUZZI

- The life and times of Dante's soaring poetic allegory of the soul's redemptive journey toward God

Written during his exile from Florence in the early 1300s, Dante Alighieri's Divine Comedy describes the poet's travels through hell, purgatory, and paradise, exploring the state of the human soul after death. His poema sacro, sacred poem, profoundly influenced Renaissance writers and artists such as Giovanni Boccaccio and Sandro Botticelli and was venerated by modern critics including Erich Auerbach and Harold Bloom. Dante's 'Divine Comedy' narrates the remarkable reception of Dante's masterpiece, one of the most consequential religious books ever written.

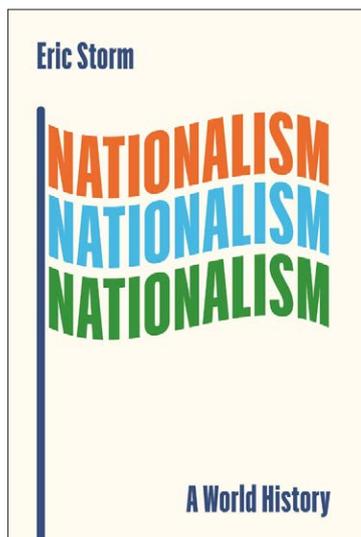

Tracing the many afterlives of Dante's epic poem, Joseph Luzzi shows how it left its mark on the work of such legendary authors as John Milton, Mary Shelley, and James Joyce while serving as a source of inspiration for writers like Primo Levi and Antonio Gramsci as they faced the most extreme forms of political oppression.

He charts how the dialogue between religious and secular ideas in The Divine Comedy has shaped issues ranging from changing conceptions of women's identity and debates about censorship to the role of canonical literature in popular culture.

NATIONALISM

A World History

ERIC STORM

- A global perspective on the nature and evolution of nationalism, from the early modern era to the present

The current rise of nationalism across the globe is a reminder that we are not, after all, living in a borderless world of virtual connectivity. In Nationalism, historian Eric Storm sheds light on contemporary nationalist movements by exploring the global evolution of nationalism, beginning with the rise of the nation-state in the eighteenth century through the revival of nationalist ideas in the present day. Storm traces the emergence of the unitary nation-state which brought citizenship rights to some while excluding a multitude of 'others' and the pervasive spread of nationalist ideas through politics and culture.

Storm shows how nationalism influences the arts and humanities, mapping its dissemination through newspapers, television, and social media. Sports and tourism, too, have helped fashion a world of discrete nations, each with its own character, heroes, and highlights. Nationalism saturates the physical environment, not only in the form of national museums and patriotic statues but also in efforts to preserve cultural heritage, create national parks, invent ethnic dishes and beverages, promote traditional building practices, and cultivate native plants. Nationalism has even been used for selling cars, furniture, and fashion.

ECONOMICS IN AMERICA

An Immigrant Economist Explores the Land of Inequality

ANGUS DEATON

- Now in paperback!
- From the Nobel Prize-winning economist and New York Times bestselling coauthor of Deaths of Despair and the Future of Capitalism, candid reflections on the economist's craft

When economist Angus Deaton immigrated to the United States from Britain in the early 1980s, he was awed by America's strengths and shocked by the extraordinary gaps he witnessed between people.

Economics in America explains in clear terms how the field of economics addresses the most pressing issues of our time from poverty, retirement, and the minimum wage to the ravages of the nation's uniquely disastrous health care system and narrates Deaton's account of his experiences as a naturalised US citizen and academic economist.

Deaton is witty and pulls no punches. In this incisive, candid, and funny book, he describes the everyday lives of working economists, recounting the triumphs as well as the disasters, and tells the inside story of the Nobel Prize in economics and the journey that led him to Stockholm to receive one.

FUGITIVES

A History of Nazi Mercenaries During the Cold War

DANNY ORBACH

From Spain to Syria, the thrilling, untold history of Nazi fugitives turned postwar agents for America, the Soviets, the Third World, or themselves.

After the Second World War, the Allies vowed to hunt Nazi war criminals ‘to the ends of the earth’. Yet many slipped away or were shielded by the West, in exchange for cooperation in the unfolding confrontation with Communism.

Reinhard Gehlen, founder of West German foreign intelligence, welcomed SS operatives into the fold, overestimating their supposed capabilities. This shortsighted decision nearly brought down his cherished service, as the KGB found his Nazi operatives easy to turn or expose.

NOTHING BUT MURDERS AND BLOODSHED AND HANGING

MARY FORTUNE, INTRODUCTION AND NOTES BY LUCY SUSSEX, MEGAN BROWN

- This collection, together with a simultaneously published biography, will confirm Mary Fortune’s status as a trailblazing crime writer

A murderer is identified by a team of oxen. A dead man rises from a watery grave to indict his killer. A phantom hearse gliding through Melbourne’s slums foretells violent death. A seamstress turns detective to avenge her friend’s homicide. A locked-tent mystery.

Such are the themes of Mary Fortune’s ingenious and dramatic crime stories. Between 1865 and 1910 she wrote over 500 of them; they comprise the first ever detective fiction series written by a woman. Set in the outback, on the goldfields, and in the burgeoning metropolis of Melbourne, they offer a vivid account of life and death in colonial-era Australia.

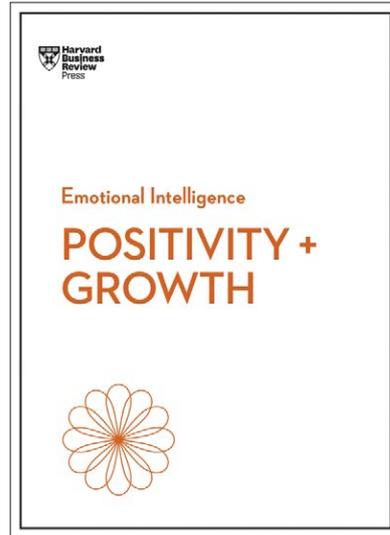

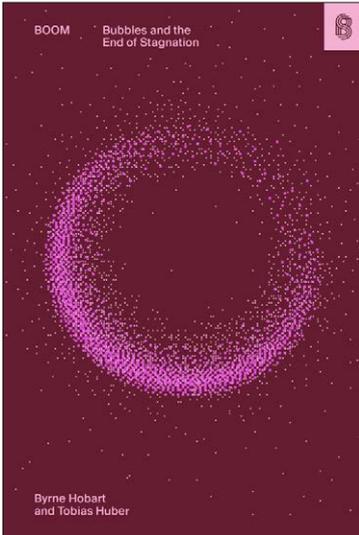

Fortune tackled subjects such as murder, armed robbery, bootlegging, and sexual violence with a frankness unprecedented for a woman in the 19th century, in styles ranging from melodrama and Gothic horror to social realism and what is now called noir.

This book brings together 17 of her finest stories, edited and introduced by literary historians Lucy Sussex and Megan Brown.

BOOM

Bubbles and the End of Stagnation

BYRNE HOBART, TOBIAS HUBER

- Boom makes the provocative, compelling, and counterintuitive claim that bubbles aren't all bad in fact, they may create the ideal conditions for transformative innovation
- Stripe Press has a sizable community of avid fans, who run the gamut from startup founders to executives at some of the world's largest companies

A timely investigation of the causes of technological and scientific stagnation, and a radical blueprint for accelerating innovation.

From the Moon landing to the dawning of the atomic age, the decades prior to the 1970s were characterised by the routine invention of transformative technologies at breakneck speed. By comparison, ours is an age of stagnation. Median wage growth has slowed, inequality and income concentration are on the rise, and scientific research has become increasingly expensive and incremental.

Why are we unable to replicate the rate of progress of past decades? What can we do to reinvigorate innovation? In Boom, Byrne Hobart and Tobias Huber take an inductive approach to the problem.

- Now in paperback!
- A timely book that examines LGBTQI+ life across Russia and Ukraine under Soviet control
- Based on unique historical evidence, it offers new information about doctors, actors, KGB officers and singers who tried to fight the system
- Centred around individuals, each chapter explores what it was like to live under Soviet rule for gay and gay-friendly people
- Instantly draws readers into its unique and compelling narratives

A poignant and deeply researched history of gay oppression in the USSR. In 1934, Joseph Stalin enacted sodomy laws, unleashing a wave of brutal detentions of homosexual men in large Soviet cities. Red Closet recounts the compelling stories of people whose lives were affected by those laws, including a naïve Scottish journalist who dared to write to Stalin in an attempt to save his lover from prosecution and a homosexual theatre student who came to Moscow in pursuit of a career amid Stalin’s harsh repressions and mass arrests. We also meet a fearless doctor in Siberia who provided medical treatment for gay men at his own peril and a much-loved Soviet singer who hid his homosexuality from the secret police.

REFRAMING THE ‘DESERT FRONTIER’

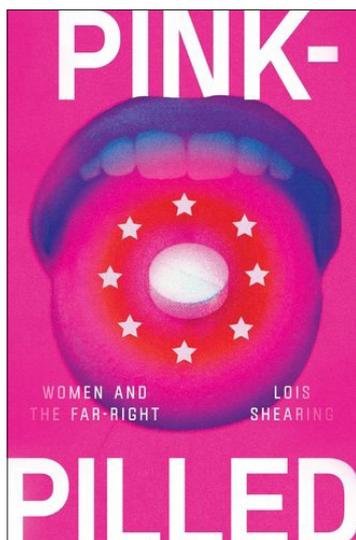

Studies in the ancient Near East and northern Arabia in honour of David Kennedy

EDITED BY REBECCA REPPER, ROBERT BEWLEY AND MIKE BISHOP

- Synthesis of new and exciting research on the Roman Empire’s eastern frontier
- In honour of a pioneering archaeologist in the Middle East
- New methodological approaches for 21st century archaeological practice
- Reveals new sources for future research

The eastern frontier of the Roman Empire, its network of roads, trade routes, towns and forts, is often conceived of as an ‘edge’ of both empire and civilisation but this ‘borderland’ is also part of a rich cultural landscape. Our awareness and appreciation of these cultures has increased dramatically over the course of the last century. Scholarship has deepened, methods have advanced and perspectives have shifted.

Reframing the ‘Desert Frontier’ offers new insights into the rich cultural history of this region through the re-examination of existing material such as archives, historical accounts, and previous surveys, and through the use of novel archaeological approaches across its 20 chapters. The bringing together of different methodological approaches to the archaeology of the region in a single volume highlights synergies and offers important comparisons for archaeologists to consider.

PINK-PILLED

Women and the far right
LOIS SHEARING

- Makes a unique contribution to understanding the place of women in far-right politics
- Reveals the mechanisms by which women are radicalised online
- Offers an accessible exploration of far-right politics and movements and solutions for countering women’s radicalisation

A daring investigation into how women are recruited by the far right online.

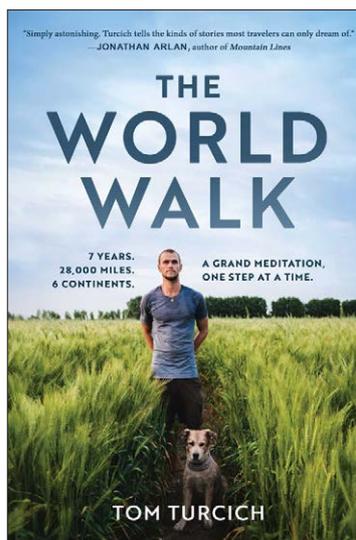

As the far right has gained popularity and acceptance around the world, its ranks have swelled with an unlikely category of members: women. Women play significant roles in far-right movements, acting as propagandists, prizes to be won and mother-warriors of the nation. But up to now their activities have been largely overlooked.

In Pink-pilled, journalist Lois Shearing interviews leading experts and infiltrates communities of tradwives and femtrolls to provide a cutting-edge account of how the far right uses the internet to recruit women. Shining a light on women’s experiences within these movements, Shearing reveals horrifying examples of misogyny and violence.

THE WORLD WALK

7 Years. 28,000 Miles. 6 Continents. A Grand Meditation, One Step at a Time.
TOM TURCICH

- For fans of Jon Krakauer’s Into the Wild and Suleika Jaouad’s Between Two Kingdoms, the invigorating true story of a man and his dog who circled the globe on foot

The invigorating true story of a man and his dog who circled the globe on foot. After the death of a close friend at seventeen, Tom Turcich resolved to make the most out of life; to travel and be forced into adventure; to experience and understand the world. On April 2nd, 2015, he set out to see it all one step at a time. The World Walk is the emotional and exhilarating story of the tenth person and first dog to walk around the world. Together, Turcich and his dog, Savannah, covered twenty-eight thousand miles over the course of seven years. Through deserts, jungles, cities, and mountains, Turcich meditated on what’s important in life and took lessons from cultures around the globe.

Rarely has there been a true-life tale of such scope. From sheltered suburbanite to world traveler, Turcich’s epic account runs the full gamut: He is held up at knifepoint in Panama and gunpoint in Turkey; wanders deep within himself in the deserts of Peru; watches a democracy fortify itself in Georgia; and takes it all in with his resolute companion by his side.

MANET

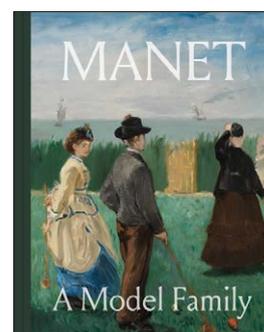

A Model Family

EDITED BY DIANA SEAVE GREENWALD

- A groundbreaking and richly illustrated account of the importance of Manet's family to his art

All families are complicated, but the family of Edouard Manet (1832-1883) was more complicated than most. The artist married a piano teacher who worked for his wealthy parents. Her son, born out of wedlock, may have been Edouard's, his father's, or another man's. For all its complexities, Manet's family fueled his creativity. They were his most frequent models, and supported him emotionally and financially.

Manet: A Model Family is an innovative new exploration of the largely neglected story of the importance of Manet's family to his art. Presenting new research on works in which Manet depicted family members, Manet: A Model Family shows how an understanding of the artist's family sheds crucial light on his artistic career.

CÁDIZ

The Story of Europe's Oldest City

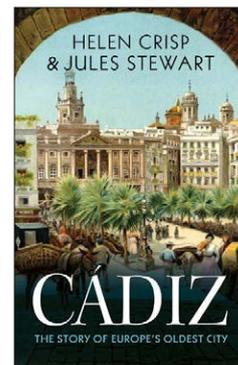

HELEN CRISP, JULES STEWART

- A captivating portrait of an overlooked Andalusian gem
- Beautifully illustrated history of Europe's oldest continuously inhabited city
- Site where Europe's first liberal constitution was drafted in 1812 and where Franco's troops first entered in 1936

This is the tale of Western Europe's oldest continuously inhabited city, a 3,000-year history of war and seafaring, culture and commerce, liberalism and resistance.

Helen Crisp and Jules Stewart offer a vibrant account of Cádiz past and present, from its ancient founding myths to its reinvention as a trendy tourist destination. They illuminate Cádiz's experiences under Roman and Moorish rule; explore its centuries of maritime warfare, from Francis Drake to the Battle of Trafalgar; and probe its role in Spain's 'Golden Age' of empire, when it dominated trade with the New World. As Spain's de facto capital during the Peninsular War, Cádiz also produced Europe's first liberal constitution in 1812.

SPAIN

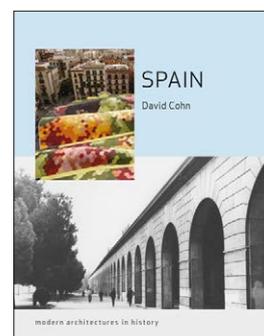

Modern Architectures in History

DAVID COHN

- An investigation of Spain's remarkable yet little-known 20th century architecture
- Analyses significant figures and their works in relation to their political, social and cultural contexts, as well as their contributions to Spanish architecture as a whole
- Takes in the austere, local Modernism of the 1920s, the influence of international trends in the '30s, the renewed, 'Organicist' Modernism of the mid-century, and the flourishing public architecture of the '80s, '90s and beyond

Spain's remarkable 20th-century architecture evolved against a turbulent background of revolution, civil war, dictatorship and transition to democracy. Architecture played a key role in Spain's struggle out of poverty and isolation, and its search for identity in the modern world.

THE WHOLE TRUTH

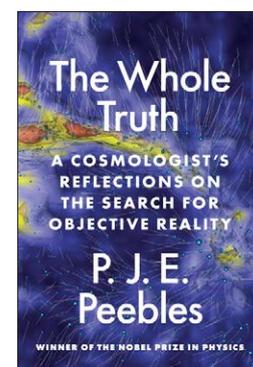

A Cosmologist's Reflections on the Search for Objective Reality

P. J. E. PEBBLES

- From the Nobel Prize-winning physicist, a personal meditation on the quest for objective reality in natural science

A century ago, thoughtful people questioned how reality could agree with physical theories that keep changing, from a mechanical model of the ether to electric and magnetic fields, and from homogeneous matter to electrons and atoms. Today, concepts like dark matter and dark energy further complicate and enrich the search for objective reality. The Whole Truth is a personal reflection on this ongoing quest by one of the world's most esteemed cosmologists. What lies at the heart of physical science? What are the foundational ideas that inform and guide the enterprise? Is the concept of objective reality meaningful? If so, do our established physical theories usefully approximate it? P. J. E. Peebles takes on these and other big questions about the nature of science, drawing on a lifetime of experience as a leading physicist and using cosmology as an example.

QUEERING THE RUNES

Reclaiming Ancestral Wisdom in Rune Magic and Mythology
 SIRI VINCENT PLOUFF, FOREWORD BY LARA VESTA

- The Elder Futhark create a beautiful system of divination, though finding good information about them can be difficult, especially for queer, progressive, modern querents
- Norse mythology includes an incredible diversity of gender and sexual expression, but this has been largely excluded from books published on contemporary heathenry or runic divination

Queering the Runes is a contemporary, inclusive, and forward-thinking approach to the runes that focuses on finding queer experience, life, and joy in the Elder Futhark. Siri comes to the runes as a queer, non-binary reader, and presents a path for reclaiming the ancestral wisdom and mystery of the runes in a way that can provide insight and understanding of their sacred nature for masculine, feminine, and non-gendered aspects of self.

ALEXANDER VON HUMBOLDT

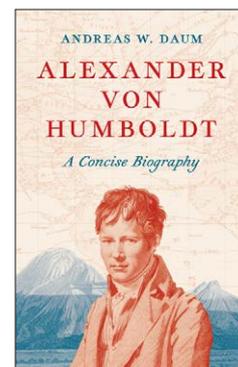

A Concise Biography

ANDREAS W. DAUM, TRANSLATED BY ROBERT SAVAGE

- An engaging account of the life and work of the legendary polymath Alexander von Humboldt

In this lucid biography, Andreas Daum offers a succinct and novel interpretation of the life and oeuvre of Alexander von Humboldt (1769-1859). A Prussian nobleman born into the age of European Enlightenment, Humboldt was a contemporary of Napoleon, Simón Bolívar, and Charles Darwin. As a naturalist and scholar, he travelled the world, from the Americas to Central Asia, and recorded his observations in multiple volumes. Humboldt is still admired today for his interdisciplinary outreach and ecological awareness.

Moving beyond the conventional views of Humboldt as either intellectual superhero or gentleman coloniser, Daum's incisive account focuses on Humboldt in the context of the tumultuous period of history in which he lived.

TIBERIUS AND HIS AGE

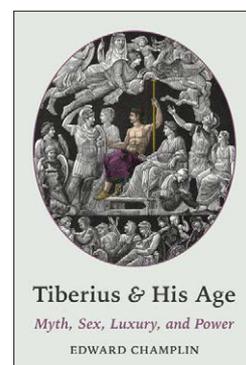

Myth, Sex, Luxury, and Power

EDWARD CHAMPLIN, EDITED BY ROBERT KASTER

- A radical new portrait of the infamous Roman emperor

Rome's second emperor, Tiberius (42 BCE-CE 37), has traditionally been seen as a villainous hypocrite treacherous, grasping, vindictive, and depraved. But in Tiberius and His Age, Edward Champlin draws on vast and diverse evidence to show that Tiberius was and was seen by contemporaries to be recognisably human and far more complex than the monster of the hostile tradition that began with Tacitus and Suetonius.

Focusing on the overlapping themes of luxury, sex, power, and, especially, myth, Tiberius and His Age examines Tiberius's standing as a folkloric figure in the Roman popular imagination and his conscious use of mythological themes to consolidate his power. It argues that the striking stories of Tiberius's sexual depravity, which literary sources passed on to later generations, are ultimately incoherent fictions, the work of a brilliant fantasist who hated the emperor.

CREATOR OF NIGHTMARES

Henry Fuseli's Art and Life
CHRISTOPHER BAKER

- A critical biography of the eighteenth-century painter

Henry Fuseli (1741-1825) was one of the eighteenth century's most provocative and inventive artists. He is best known for his painting The Nightmare, which created a new form of terrifying gothic imagery for the Romantic age. This engaging study of the artist's career unveils Fuseli's complexities, navigating contradictions between literary and painted works, sacred and secular themes, and traditional patronage versus the new era of competitive exhibitions and intense criticism.

Plotting Fuseli's trajectory from Zurich to Paris, Rome and ultimately London, where he secured long-lasting fame, the artist is revealed as an astute publicity seeker and self-proclaimed genius who transformed himself from a priest to an Enlightenment writer, a 'mad' mercurial force in the art world, and finally a revered teacher.

DYLAN THOMAS

JOHN GOODBY, CHRIS WIGGINTON

- An accessible introduction to the life and work of the inventive Welsh poet

Dylan Thomas – author of some of the century's greatest poetry, stories, and film scripts as well as one of the greatest radio features ever broadcast, Under Milk Wood – is often characterised as self-indulgent. This concise and up-to-date biography challenges this depiction with a fresh portrait of the artist as a consummate professional.

John Goodby and Chris Wigginton locate the source of Thomas's daring and inventive style in the poet's Anglo-Welsh origins as well as his historical, cultural, and social contexts: the Great Depression and 1930s literary London, surrealism, World War II, and Cold War popular culture. The result is a revealing and fresh introduction to the life and work of this important Welsh writer.

THE NORWEGIAN METHOD

The Culture, Science, and Humans Behind the Groundbreaking Approach to Elite Endurance Performance
BRAD CULP

- Find out how a sparsely-populated country came to dominate the world of endurance sports and get a blueprint for high performance

Norway has long stacked the field with champions in sports like Nordic skiing and sailing, but a new generation of athletes has arrived on the endurance scene, smashing records and grabbing medals in running, cycling, and triathlon.

Sports journalist Brad Culp unpacks the rise of the Norwegian method and its meticulous scientific protocols, which upend long-held beliefs about training and performance. With its rugged terrain and harsh weather, Norway has a way of hardening competitors for any test.

STUBBORN LIFE

Hardship and Hope in Ukraine, Kazakhstan, Poland
FRANCESKA MICHALSKA,
TRANSLATED BY SEAN GASPER
BYE

- The current war in Ukraine gives this story a renewed urgency and relevance for our current time
- Will appeal to a very wide audience, all those interested in Ukraine, history, medical biography, inspiring stories of female empowerment, of resilience, of feminism, of life-affirming true stories of human strength and endurance

A memoir of the Russian occupation of Ukraine in the 1930s and the mass deportation of Poles from the region. The end of the 1920s, the author's first memory: a knock on the door and the arrest of her uncle, guilty of 'anti-Soviet activities'. He is to be executed. Born in 1923, a dozen or so kilometers from the pre-war Polish-Soviet border, Franceska Michalska is a citizen of occupied Ukraine.

POSTCARDS FROM ABSURDISTAN

Prague at the End of History
DEREK SAYER

- A sweeping history of a twentieth-century Prague torn between fascism, communism, and democracy with lessons for a world again threatened by dictatorship

Postcards from Absurdistan is a cultural and political history of Prague from 1938, when the Nazis destroyed Czechoslovakia's artistically vibrant liberal democracy, to 1989, when the country's socialist regime collapsed after more than four decades of communist dictatorship. Derek Sayer shows that Prague's twentieth century, far from being a story of inexorable progress toward some 'end of history', whether fascist, communist, or democratic, was a tragicomedy of recurring nightmares played out in a land Czech dissidents dubbed Absurdistan. Situated in the eye of the storms that shaped the modern world, Prague holds up an unsettling mirror to the absurdities and dangers of our own times.

ZERO SUM

The Arc of International Business in Russia
CHARLES HECKER

- Zero Sum brings to life the complex, vivid colour of one of the greatest experiments in the history of global commerce

When the hammer and sickle came down in late 1991, Russia's feverish new market opened for business. From banking to breweries, sectors emerged out of nowhere, in a country that had never had a functioning economy. For the next three turbulent decades, a wild, proto-capitalist free-for-all transformed Russian society. Then, in 2022, Putin launched the full-scale invasion of Ukraine. The market started to collapse; Western firms fled Moscow's skyscrapers. No country this large had ever remade itself so dizzyingly now, just as dramatically, it was over. The intervening decades had seen phenomenal successes and crushing failures; the creation and destruction of enormous fortunes. How did it all happen. What have businesses learnt or failed to learn from this adventure, both about Russia and about dynamics between countries and companies in the face of relentless change?

THE MAN WHO SAVED GEOMETRY

The Multidimensional Mind of Donald Coxeter
SIOBHAN ROBERTS

- An illuminating biography of one of the greatest geometers of the twentieth century

Driven by a profound love of shapes and symmetries, Donald Coxeter (1907-2003) preserved the tradition of classical geometry when it was under attack by influential mathematicians who promoted a more algebraic and austere approach. His essential contributions include the famed Coxeter groups and Coxeter diagrams, tools developed through his deep understanding of mathematical symmetry.

The Man Who Saved Geometry tells the story of Coxeter's life and work, placing him alongside history's greatest geometers, from Pythagoras and Plato to Archimedes and Euclid and it reveals how Coxeter's boundless creativity reflects the adventurous, ever-evolving nature of geometry itself.

READING THE ODYSSEY

A Guide to Homer's Narrative
JONAS GRETHLEIN, TRANSLATED BY SABRINA STOLFA

- A fresh and original introduction to the Odyssey and how it continues to shape literature, film, art and even the ways we make sense of our lives

Reading the Odyssey is an introduction to Homer's masterpiece like no other. It combines a cultural and intellectual history of the epic with an in-depth exploration of its unique and influential narrative structure and the ways it continues to inform issues of identity, meaning and experience.

Reading the Odyssey begins with a broad history of the epic's reception and interpretation, its place in cultural and intellectual history and its influence today on literature, film and art. After introducing the literary form of the Odyssey, the book turns to its main focus: the layered narrative that lies at the heart of the poem.

REVOLUTION AND DICTATORSHIP

The Violent Origins of Durable
Authoritarianism

STEVEN LEVITSKY, LUCAN WAY

- Why the world’s most resilient dictatorships are products of violent revolution

Revolution and Dictatorship explores why dictatorships born of social revolution such as those in China, Cuba, Iran, the Soviet Union, and Vietnam are extraordinarily durable, even in the face of economic crisis, large-scale policy failure, mass discontent, and intense external pressure. Few other modern autocracies have survived in the face of such extreme challenges.

Drawing on comparative historical analysis, Steven Levitsky and Lucan Way argue that radical efforts to transform the social and geopolitical order trigger intense counterrevolutionary conflict, which initially threatens regime survival, but ultimately fosters the unity and state-building that supports authoritarianism.

VIRTUOUS BANKERS

A Day in the Life of the Eighteenth-Century Bank of England

ANNE L. MURPHY

- An intimate account of the eighteenth-century Bank of England that shows how a private institution became ‘a great engine of state’

The eighteenth-century Bank of England was an institution that operated for the benefit of its shareholders and yet came to be considered, as Adam Smith described it, ‘a great engine of state’. In Virtuous Bankers, Anne Murphy explores how this private organisation became the guardian of the public credit upon which Britain’s economic and geopolitical power was based.

Drawing on the voluminous and detailed minute books of a Committee of Inspection that examined the Bank’s workings in 1783-84, Murphy frames her account as ‘a day in the life’ of the Bank of England, looking at a day’s worth of banking activities that ranged from the issuing of bank notes to the management of public funds.

EMBATTLED EUROPE

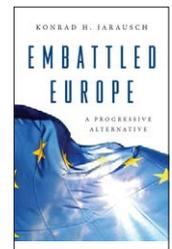

A Progressive Alternative

KONRAD H. JARAUSCH

- An engaging narrative and probing analysis, Embattled Europe tells the story of how the EU emerged as a model of democratic governance and balanced economic growth, adapting to changing times while retaining its value system

Is the European Union in decline? Recent history, from the debt and migration crises to Brexit, has led many observers to argue that the EU’s best days are behind it. Over the past decade, right-wing populists have come to power in Poland, Hungary, and beyond many of them winning elections using strident anti-EU rhetoric. At the same time, Russia poses a continuing military threat, and the rise of Asia has challenged the EU’s economic power. But in Embattled Europe, renowned European historian Konrad Jarusch counters the prevailing pessimistic narrative of European obsolescence with a rousing yet realistic defense of the continent one grounded in a fresh account of its post 1989 history and an intimate understanding of its twentieth-century horrors.

FRAGMENTARY FORMS

A New History of Collage

FREYA GOWRLEY

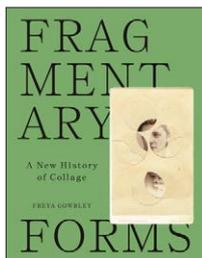

- A beautifully illustrated global history of collage from the origins of paper to today

While the emergence of collage is frequently placed in the twentieth century when it was a favoured medium of modern artists, its earliest beginnings are tied to the invention of paper in China around 200 BCE. Subsequent forms occurred in twelfth-century Japan with illuminated manuscripts that combined calligraphic poetry with torn coloured papers.

Fragmentary Forms offers a new, global perspective on one of the world's oldest and most enduring means of cultural expression, tracing the rich history of collage from its ancient origins to its uses today as a powerful tool for storytelling and explorations of identity.

Presenting an expansive approach to collage and the history of art, Freya Gowrley explores what happens when overlapping fragmentary forms are in conversation with one another.

FASHION, FAITH, AND FANTASY IN THE NEW PHYSICS OF THE UNIVERSE

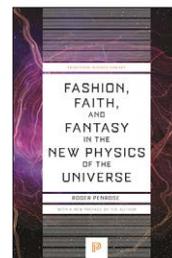

ROGER PENROSE

- Nobel Prize-winning physicist Roger Penrose questions some of the most fashionable ideas in physics today, including string theory

What can fashionable ideas, blind faith, or pure fantasy possibly have to do with the scientific quest to understand the universe? Surely, theoretical physicists are immune to mere trends, dogmatic beliefs, or flights of fancy? In fact, acclaimed physicist and bestselling author Roger Penrose argues that researchers working at the extreme frontiers of physics are just as susceptible to these forces as anyone else.

In this provocative book, he argues that fashion, faith, and fantasy, while sometimes productive and even essential in physics, may be leading today's researchers astray in three of the field's most important areas: string theory, quantum mechanics, and cosmology.

GENIUS AT PLAY

The Curious Mind of John Horton Conway
SIOBHAN ROBERTS

- A multifaceted biography of a brilliant mathematician and iconoclast

A mathematician unlike any other, John Horton Conway (1937-2020) possessed a rock star's charisma, a polymath's promiscuous curiosity, and a sly sense of humour. Conway found fame as a barefoot professor at Cambridge, where he discovered the Conway groups in mathematical symmetry and the aptly named surreal numbers.

He also invented the cult classic Game of Life, a cellular automaton that demonstrates how simplicity generates complexity and provides an analogy for mathematics and the entire universe.

Moving to Princeton in 1987, Conway used ropes, dice, pennies, coat hangers, and the occasional Slinky to illustrate his winning imagination and share his nerdish delights.

LEIBNIZ IN HIS WORLD

The Making of a Savant
AUDREY BOROWSKI, AUDREY BOROWSKI

- A sweeping intellectual biography that restores the Enlightenment polymath to the intellectual, scientific, and courtly worlds that shaped his early life and thought

Described by Voltaire as 'perhaps a man of the most universal learning in Europe', Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz (1646-1716) is often portrayed as a rationalist and philosopher who was wholly detached from the worldly concerns of his fellow men. Leibniz in His World provides a groundbreaking reassessment of Leibniz, telling the story of his trials and tribulations as an aspiring scientist and courtier navigating the learned and courtly circles of early modern Europe and the Republic of Letters. Drawing on extensive correspondence by Leibniz and many leading figures of the age, Audrey Borowski paints a nuanced portrait of Leibniz in the 1670s, during his 'Paris sojourn' as a young diplomat and in Germany at the court of Duke Johann Friedrich of Hanover.
