About the author and illustrator:

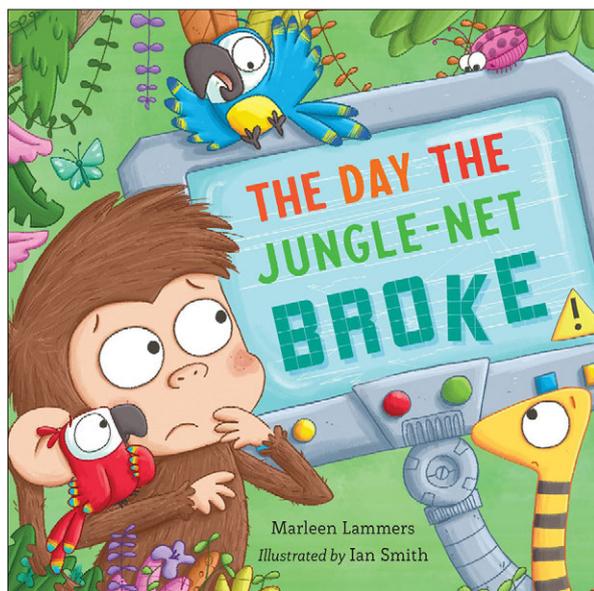

Yvonne Low is a writer, illustrator and award-winning fine artist, creating picture books, poetry and junior fiction. While nature is her main inspiration, through her background in the performing arts as a dancer and choreographer, theatre, film, music and foreign cultures also feed her imagination. Her work is whimsical and often has a dash of humour and wordplay.

Kate Talbot is an Australian-born, New Zealand-based children's book writer and illustrator. Working digitally, she is passionate about instilling a love for stories and storytelling in little people and hopes to nurture life-long readers and artists through her quirky characters and vibrant illustrations.

THE DAY THE JUNGLE-NET BROKE
 MARLEEN LAMMERS, ILLUSTRATED BY IAN SMITH

- Introduces children to the importance of boundaries with technology and is a good starting point to talk about the healthy balance between activities on and offline
- Fun animal characters
- Hilarious illustrations throughout by award-winning illustrator Ian Smith

Age range 3 to 6

When the jungle-net breaks, Miles the Monkey panics.

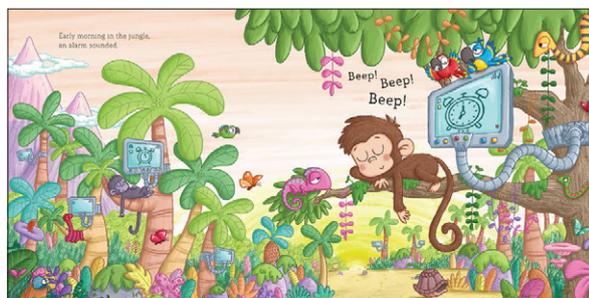

Without his i-tree, how will he tree-time his family? How will he order bananas from his Just Peel app? It feels disastrous.

But with all this time on his hands, and no screens around, Miles discovers there's a bit more to a good monkey-life than he realised.

About the author and illustrator:

Marleen Lammers is a writer with a huge passion for children's literature. She is a bit of an accidental nomad; she grew up in the Netherlands, but has been doing the expat thing for almost twenty years. She has spent most of that time in various countries in Southern Africa, working with nonprofits, and co-founding a couple of travel companies. She now travels between South Africa, the UK and Cyprus with her partner and two sons, and mostly tries to avoid cold weather. She's happiest when writing fun children's stories, preferably in the sun, preferably barefoot.

Ian Smith was born and raised in a little village in the West Midlands. While growing up, he spent much of his time playing in the mud with his plastic dinosaurs, reading about dinosaurs or chasing his little sisters while pretending to be a dinosaur. But even more than dinosaurs, he loved to draw. He always knew he wanted to be an artist (or a dinosaur!) When he got a bit older and the house had run out of walls for him to scribble on, he moved to Bristol to study for a BA in illustration at the University of the West of England. Since then, he's continued to draw and write funny stories, creating characters like the ones that had fired his imagination as a child, and before he knew it, he'd turned into an illustrator (and not a dinosaur after all).

Age range 3 to 7

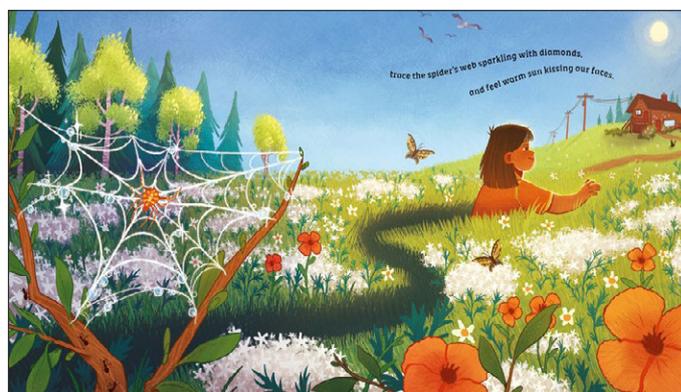

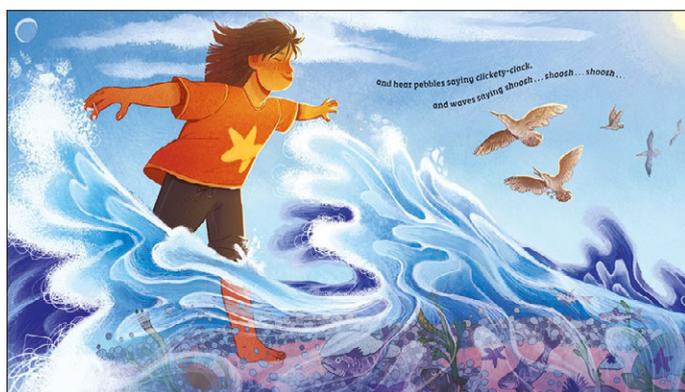

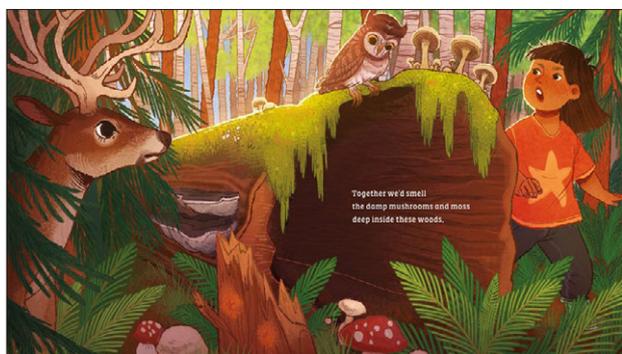

For kids ages 3-7, this lyrical picture book explores the complex emotions around missing a loved one, with stunning illustrations by Ojibwe artist Maya McKibbin.

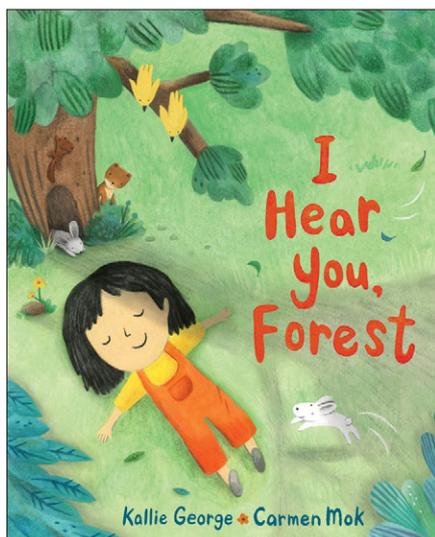

I wish I could show you...
this great big meadow,
like a sea of lacy clouds...

In this beautiful ode to nature and mindfulness, a child sets out to explore the environment around their home, using all their senses. Yet, someone important is missing, someone the child wishes could be there on the journey.

Expressive text by Kathy Stinson leaves room for readers' own interpretations about who the child in the story might be missing, while Indigenous illustrator Maya McKibbin's gorgeous images capture the lush beauty of the natural world and the tenderness of a child's emotions.

The perfect book for helping a child navigate loss, or missing someone that can't be there with them.

I HEAR YOU, FOREST

KALLIE GEORGE, ILLUSTRATED BY CARMEN MOK

- A playful and poetic picture book that encourages kids to have empathy for, and a connection with, nature and all living things
- Encourages kids to listen to not just others, but also their surroundings and all parts of the natural world in order to create self-awareness and mindfulness
- First in new environmental series: The first installment in a series that explores varying environments and ecosystems

Age range 3 to 7

This playful yet calming book about wonderful forest sounds is the perfect gift for introducing kids to loving – and respecting – the natural world around them.

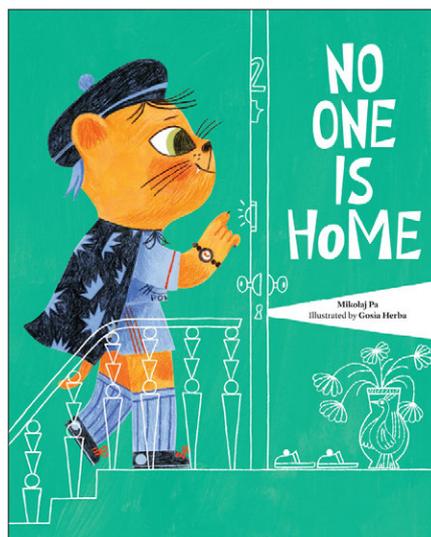

The forest has lots to say...if you listen.

When a child steps into the forest, her ears are open and her heart is too. She listens carefully and hears marvelous things. She hears the rustling of leaves sharing their secrets. She hears a beetle balancing on a branch. And the more she listens, the more she learns.

I Hear You, Forest is an excellent resource for outdoor education, classroom learning and homeschooling.

COME HOME TO MY HEART

RILEY REDGATE

- Riley Redgate is a seasoned, versatile, highly respected YA author and is poised to break out with this brilliantly crafted novel with a strong, timely, issue-driven hook
- Gloria's struggle with the realities of homelessness after being kicked out by her parents is gut-wrenching and a critical examination of an overlooked issue, particularly among LGBTQ+ teens

Age range 14+

Gorgeous in its sincerity and its precision – in its raw, honest depiction of what it feels like to be a gay teen in a world that says that you don't deserve a home.

Gloria Forman and Xia Harper go to the same high school in a small South Carolina town, but they couldn't be more different. While Gloria is part of the popular, Christian crowd, Xia sleeps through class, antagonises anyone who dares talk to her, and buries herself in books that help her pretend she's somewhere else – anywhere that being lesbian wouldn't be a waking nightmare.
